TWO NORTH VIET DEPOTS SMASHED

Navy Planes Bomb 75 Miles From Hanoi; Infantry Captures Cache Of Red Arms

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Carrier-based U.S. Navy planes hammered two of North Viet Nam's military supply depots today and a spokesman said both were smashed.

Rockets, 20mm cannon shells and 62 tons of bombs poured from 82 planes on the Thien Linh Dong army supply depot, 75 miles south of Hanoi, and the Phu Qui ammunition center, 45 miles farther south.

The Phu Qui depot drew two attacks in succession from the carrier Hancock—the first by 26 planes and the second by 31. Secondary explosions were reported there, suggesting direct hits on munitions magazines. Pilots said they also blew up a petroleum tank four miles from Phu Qui with Zuni rockets.

The carrier Midway launched 25 Skyraiders and Skyhawks against the Thien Linh Dong depot. They strafed and bombed the installations under light antiaircraft fire.

The spokesman said the attacks destroyed a total of 19 buildings, damaged 13 and knocked out four railroad box cars.

No enemy planes were sighted.

Spokesmen said all U.S. planes returned safely.

The strikes against the two depots came after several days of relatively fruitless attacks on North Vietnamese highways and bridges.

ONE OF CLOSEST

The raid on the Thien Linh Dong army depot was one of the closest ever made to Hanoi. The closest was at Dong Phuong, 65 miles south of the Communist capital. Sixty U.S. Navy planes attacked a bridge over the Na Ma River there April 3.

A U.S. Army helicopter gunner was wounded slightly during a combat assault 25 miles south of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that the big infantry sweep through the swamps of Kien Hoa Province, in the Mekong Delta 60 miles southwest of Saigon, had turned up a large Viet Cong arms cache.

The 7th Division troops at last report had counted about 600 arms, including some American Springfield rifles and a ton of high explosives. Many of the arms were still coated with protective covering and were wrapped in heavy paper.

GUARD ENTERING

Shortly after the weapons were found, the Viet Cong launched a counterattack which apparently failed.

The U.S. Defense Department announced in Washington that the U.S. Coast Guard is entering the Viet Nam war. Seventeen cutters with about 200 crewmen will be sent to assist the South Vietnamese navy in efforts to halt Communist infiltration by sea.

The announcement said the vessels will be manned by Coast Guardmen but the Coast Guard declined to say whether the present crews of the cutters would go to Viet Nam.

The announcement said the boats are well suited for operations against small, fast smugglers' boats.

Marines Move In To Protect U. S. Embassy

MRS. ANITA C. STROM
Arouses storm

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI)— A U. S. Marine armored column drove into the heart of Santo Domingo today to seal off the U.S. Embassy from the civil war raging nearby .The Marines were backed by U.S. paratroopers flown in earlier today.

At the same time a column of loyal Dominican infantry and tanks rumbled past the embassy toward strongpoints held by the Communist-infiltrated forces trying to restore ousted President Juan Bosch to power.

The Marines in near battalion strength — about 400 men with eight armored troop carriers, five tanks and three trucks preceded by a line of riflemen — moved out from the U.S. staging area at the Ambassador Hotel Polo Grounds about seven miles from the embassy.

Military sources said they would set up a roadblock near the embassy, where rebel snipers opened fire on Marine guards last night.

There are a total of 4,200 American fighting men in Santo Domingo—1,700 Marines and 2,500 members of the Army's paratroopers landed early today in a mission aimed at saving American lives.

Small arms fire and the boom of artillery sounded throughout dowtown Santo Domingo which is mostly in the hands of rebel soldiers and armed civilians backed by a number of political groups loyal to Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba.

FIRE AT DOG

The Loyalist Dominican troops whose commander is Gen. Elias Wessin were so nervous as they moved into the battle zone they even fired at a moving dog.

Most of the Americans in Santo Domingo have been evacuated to Puerto Rico, but about 800 are believed still in the Dominican Republic. Twenty-three members of the U.S. Peace Corps were still living in the city.

The 4,200 Americans outnumbered remaining American nationals by about four-to-one. An estimated 1,500 Americans of the 2,300 originally estimated in the country have been evacuated.

MORE ALERTED

(In Washington, military sources said additional U.S. troops have been alerted to move into the Dominican republic if and when needed.

(High Washington officials continued to insist that the troops were mainly to protect American lives in the strife-torn Dominican capital. But they obviously were concerned about the prospect of Castro-dominated Communists taking over the rebel movement there.)

U.S. Embassy officials here said the Marines and paratroopers had taken no action to engage the rebel forces, but had been authorized to defend themselves if attacked.

The embassy said "law and order have ceased to exist" in

Petitions Oppose Woman For Board

Letters and petitions opposing appointment of Mrs. Anita C. Strom to the San Rafael Board of Education and urging that Laurence B. Thomas be named to the vacancy poured in at the city hall yesterday and today.

A petition was filed with the city clerk bearing 315 signatures advocating appointment of Thomas, a labor-management relations arbitrator who polled 3,085 votes to place third in the board of education election on April 12. (Candidates elected were Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. with 6,658 votes and Walter R. Castro Jr. with 5,601.)

Ninety-three teachers at San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools and Davidson Junior High School signed a petition objecting to appointment of Mrs. Strom.

LETTER TO COUNCIL

The San Rafael Teachers Assn., in a letter to the city council signed by Albert Gautraud, president, said: "There is great fear that because of the haste in which you must act, you might appoint a person who does not have the support of a large segment of the population . . .

"Anyone who has aroused vehement opposition in the community for previous attacks on the schools would certainly not bring harmony and leadership to the district."

The letter mentioned no name.

The Marin County Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, in a letter signed by Barbara Blumberg, San Rafael High School representative, suggested appointment of "the closest runner-up" in the election—which would be Thomas.

Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congragation Rodef Sholom wrote the council:

TELLS CONCERN

"I have been greatly concerned by the report that the city council is considering the appointment of Mrs. Strom . . . There is no question in my mind but that this appointment would create a divisiveness on the school board which would lead to extreme acrimony and destructiveness within the schools of the district.

"Mrs. Strom, by her past record, is clearly identified with those forces of the extreme right who would indulge in witch hunting among school personnel, book burning, curriculum censorship, and other authoritarian practices."

Rabbi Hoffman urged appointment of Thomas, "whose pres-

College Lobby Is Defended By Lawmakers

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Democratic and Republican leaders came to the defense of state college lobbyist Lester Cohen today and criticized professors for condemning him .

The Academic Senate of the state college adopted a resolution in Fresno yesterday expressing lack of confidence in Cohen. It criticized the lobbyist for supporting a bill, backed by the college administration but opposed by the senate, which would prevent unauthorized use of the state college name.

'HIGH RESPECT'

Assembly Republican Caucus Chairman Don Mulford, Piedmont, who wrote the controversial bill, said he had the "highest respect" for Cohen. He added what the professors did "internally is their business, but when they attack infividuals who are seeking to help the legislature, then the legislature should take notice."

Mulford suggsted that a bill to raise college faculty salaries be moved to the inactive file "while we study this matter." No action was taken on the suggestion.

'PRAISE GIVEN'

High praise for Cohen also came from Democratic floor leader Jerome Waldie, Antioch; Speaker Pro Tem Carlos Bee, D-Hayward, and Assemblyman George Zenovich, D-Fresno.

Assemblyman William Stanton, D-San Jose, however, said that "college professors are not second-class citizens. they have a right to express themselves."

Cohen, seated in the balcony, said later that the academic Senate's action was "ill-advised and ill-timed."

Fire Routs Occupants In San Rafael Hotel

A San Rafael policeman saw smoke pouring from the top floor of the Burchard Hotel Apartments, 1330 Fourth Street, at 4:30 a.m. today and routed the occupants, many of them elderly, in time to avoid any injuries from fire or smoke.

Firemen confined to blaze to five second and third floor rooms, but said "it could have been disastrous" had there been any wind.

Battalion Chief Robert H. Rogers said an unidentified man rang the doorbell at Fire Station One, just around the corner from the hotel, at 4.29 a.m. and shouted to the firemen's second floor quarters.

At the same time, Police Officer John Loane saw the fire from his patrol car. He arrived at the building a few seconds ahead of fire trucks and rushed to the burning third floor room of Peter E. Karalis, 52.

The apartment manager, Mrs. Mabel E. Evans, awoke and began helping Loane as he went through the building rousing tenants. Rogers soon arrived and assisted also.

Loane had to kick in three doors to rescue women who had not heard his cries. He carried two of them outside the building.

No injury was reported.

Investigation into the fire's cause was underway today, Rogers said, but firemen believe the blaze started in or near a clothes closet in Karalis' room.

Karalis said he left his room about 4 a.m., and smelled smoke when he returned a few minutes later. Searching for its source, he said, he opened the closet door and flames jumped out at him.

Blinded by the smoke, Karalis was unable to find his way out of the room until Loane arrived.

Destroyed were the third floor rooms of Karalis, Herbert Deardorf and Mrs. Juanita Dibble. Water seeping through the floor damaged second floor rooms of

Negro Textbook Proposal Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly voted 50-5 today for a bill that would ban use of school textbooks unless they correctly depicted the role of the Negro and other minorities in American life.

The measure by Assemblyman Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles, now goes to the Senate.

Opponents charged the bill would result in discrimination in favor of minority groups. They said the bill should have called only for accurate portrayal of the role of all groups in the state's history.

Flag Pledge Ruled Out For Boy, 18

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A high school senior will not have to recite the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, a Superior judge ruled today.

Judge W. Preston Butcher ruled that the Board of Education ruling requiring students to recite the pledge violated Charles Ames' "freedom of conscience, an integral part of freedom of religion and freedom of speech."

Ames, 18, testified he feels the pledge is frivolous because gross civil inequalities exist; that constant repetition makes the pledge meaningless and that it violates Constitutional guarantees of freedom of religion.

Ames, son of a Purdue University professor, said he is an agnostic. He said he has stood silent during the pledge since last November.

May Day Set On Red Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro at Saturday's May Day celebration is expected to lash out at the United States for sending troops to the Dominican Republic.

The Havana press and organized protest meetings of workers and students denounced the "open violation" of Dominican people's rights by U.S. troops.

Castro also is expected to announce that Cuba's sugar production has reached 5.1 millions tons and will go higher.

The press said about 100,000 workers would march in Saturday's parade.

Top Marine Sees Defeat For Viet Cong

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, said today he was "absolutely convinced" that the Communists could be defeated in Viet Nam.

Returning from a six-day inspection trip in the Far East, Greene said if the Viet Cong want to attack the big American base at Da Nang, "just let 'em try it . . . They will find some Marines there . . . We are going to stay in Da Nang."

'PRETTY SERIOUS'

The diminutive head of the Marine Corps said that the situation in Viet Nam "looks pretty serious to me."

He referred to the difficulty of operating in the mountains, thick jungles, over tough trails and in temperatures above 100 degrees. But, he added, "we've had tough problems in the Marine Corps before."

Speaking of the anti-guerrilla war generally, he said at one point that "if we want to, we can handle this problem." Questioned on that statement, he added that "I don't say we don't want to."

'OUR PLEDGE'

"If we work wih the Vietnamese military and civilians," Greene said, "I am absolutely convinced that working together we can carry our mission and our pledge to the Vietnamese people."

Greene said there were between 8,000 and 9,000 Marines at Da Nang and at a base up the coast near Hue. He said that the Marines had a division-air wing team on Okinawa and Japan totalling 35,000 to 40,000 men and they were ready to move on orders.

Anti-Child Beating Bill Passes Assembly

Ike Says Sending Marines 'Sensible'

HARRISBURG (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today President Johnson has "done a sensible thing" in sending U.S. Marines to the strife-torn Dominican Republic to protect Americans and aid in their evacuation.

Eisenhower commented briefly on foreign affairs for newsmen who met his train here upon his return to his home state after a four-month stay in California. He and Mrs. Eisenhower then motored to their Gettysburg farm, about 35 miles south of here.

"I have nothing to criticize certainly," Eisenhower commented on the dispatching of Marines. "As I have told my newspaper friends there's only one man who can handle foreign relations—that's the president. It looks to me like he's done a sensible thing."

Pakistan Rejects Cease-Fire Terms

A government spokesman said the Indian-Pakistani fighting could not end on terms suggested by Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

India demanded restoration of the status quo before the fighting erupted April 9. This would mean Pakistan would have to withdraw from areas it considers to be Pakistani.

Washington and London are both trying to bring an end to the fighting in the barren wasteland about 150 miles southeast of Karachi.

LBJ Walks, Talks But Off Record

Peripatetic Stroll Means President's Press Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is sparkling in the spring and a peripathetic President has turned himself into a modern-day Aristotle—of sorts—with increasing frequency in the balmy, beautiful weather.

President Johnson likes to walk and talk, particularly to walk and talk at the same time. So he had another walkie-talkie tour of the back yard yesterday with perhaps 50 reporters in tow.

WALKING AROUND

It was much like the days of the Greeks, when Aristotle lectured his pupils while strolling through the Lyceum Gymnasium in Athens. "Peripatetic" means walking around, and Aristotle founded a peripatetic school of philosophy.

LBJ founded the peripatetic press conference.

These take place with no regularity, any more than do any other presidential press conferences. But they seem to have more appeal to the President in the spring. This one took a small detour from the customary route, into the new east garden named for Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

NEW FEATURE

There was another new feature — a Secret Service man edged through the throng of reporters surrounding Johnson, whispered in his ear, and the President hurried over to a telephone on the wall of the rear portico, a telephone usually used by the White House police. He talked for five minutes or so and returned to the parade route with not a word on what it was about.

But this was a man who has cause for concern about fighting involving American troops in areas a hemisphere apart — in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. Whether the call had anything to do with either arena, there was no way of telling.

And perhaps the walk served as a means of showing that there was no lack of confidence and no presence of alarm in the presidential bearing. Johnson seemed to be at ease and not too perturbed about anything.

By presidential edict, these walks are off the record, for the most part, so far as what the President says is concerned. He ranges the world and the nation, just as he does in on-the-record news conferences, but often talks a little more freely. Sometimes it is a monologue for a while. And always there are questions and Johnson can answer them or talk around them as he sees fit.

Now and then he stops short to emphasize a point and pursuers stumble to a halt, stepping on heels and toes.

The route is the circular driveway, flattened on the far side, that swings behind the rear entrance beneath the Truman balcony. It goes down a slight decline, straightens out past a fountain, and goes up a slight slope. It shouldn't be too severe a course except the conditions aren't ideal when a pack of newsmen and newswomen all want to be at the presidential elbow.

And along the sides there are some hazards. Peter Lisagor of the Chicago Daily News once was more intent on the President than on a lamp post and a consequent collision brought a gash in his forehead that required a bandage. Another time Pete failed to turn aside in time for a gardener's truck and collided with the tailgate.

Women reporters have a time of it with high heels. These aren't the best footgear for the roughened driveway or occasional sorties onto the turf. Some of them have learned to stash away "flats" in the White House press room, in case they have time to grab them when Press Secretary George E. Reedy wanders into the lobby and asks: "Would anyone like to take a walk?"

State Senate Passes Bay Air Pollution Tax Increase

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has approved legislation which would increase the property tax rate in the San Francisco Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The tax hike, affecting nine counties, including Marin, was passed 29 to 2.

Authorization would be granted for an increase from oen cent to one cent and three mills.

The Assembly-passed measure by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, must now go back to the lower house for concurrence in a Senate amendment.

The amendment would allow any federal funds granted to the district on a matching basis to be used for an air monitoring program.

Dulles Airport Needs Customers

By Advance News Service

CHANTILLY, Va.—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) is searching desperately for someone with a magic wand. No crystal balls, please. They tried that approach and it fell flat.

The FAA wants to shrink the distance and travel time from downtown Washington to Dulles Internatinal Airport, and transform the airport's ultra-modern "facilities of the future" into present-day needs.

Dulles, a $108 million federal airport venture with its 10,000-acre tract, 600-foot T-shaped modern terminal, plus restaurants and shops, is losing its shirt. So are its 28 concessionaires. And Dulles' future for the next decade is admittedly bleak.

Dulles opened Nov. 17, 1962, in a blaze of publicity and rosy predictions it would lure jet traffic away from long-established Friendship Airport at Baltimore and reduce Washington National Airport (also federally owned) to a short-hop air terminal with limited potential.

These were the plans of the crystal ball-gazers. Then came the dawn.

Air travelers discovered that Dulles was 27 miles and 55 minutes away from the White House (a $13 ride by cab), compared with a four-mile ride from National. And FAA officials found that Washington is predominantly a 500-to-700 mile air hub, rarely thronged with visitors seeking long jet flights.

In 1963, Dulles' passenger volume faded from an estimate of a million fares to 666,559, and from an estimate of two million in 1964 to 880,000. The FAA estimate of 2.5 million in 1965 has been revised to 940,000.

While passengers were staying away from Dulles in droves, National Airport processed 11,640,000 passengers during 1964 and 1965, and Friendship—launching a tremendous promotion drive—watched its passenger total soar to 2,643,177.

Dulles, whose true cost has been pegged at $135 million, is reputed to have lost $6.5 million in 1964 and faces a loss this year estimated at $7.7 million. And if the airport's break-even point, as has been reported, won't come until 1977, the ill-timing of the "airport of the future" will cost taxpayers tens of millions.

C. Ward Hobbs, director of the FAA's National Capital Airports, says realistically: "Never in the history of the world has an airport been built not for today but for tomorrow."

But "tomorrow" has an ominous ring to Dulles' concessionaires who signed for space in the beautiful terminal on the basis of rosy predictions. Indicative of their distress are the daily flights: 63 from Dulles, 172 from Friendship and 567 from National.

The concessions include restaurants, barber shop, pharmacy, clothing and novelty shops. One business reportedly lost $90,000 the first year and another anticipates a $75,000 loss this year.

In some instances, the franchise fees for concessions exceed their annual gross sales. Concessionaires, not harried by customers, loll around the terminal lounge . . . and hope for a miracle.

The plush "Portals" restaurant, commanding a full view of the landing areas from the central wing, has cut back its service (now 4 to 10 p.m. weekdays).

But passengers who use Dulles lavishly praise the modern terminal with its 20 glistening 90-passenger mobile lounges (cost $4.6 million) which take customers to planeside with a minimum of walking, its 1,800-car parking field, its ultra-modern navigational aids and its lower level fountain and pool.

Sweeping the horizon from a 177-foot control tower, Dulles' technicians have access to surface detection monitors, surveillance and precision approach radars. To dampen aircraft noise are 1½ million seedling trees skirting the airport boundary.

Dulles' poor showing, however, has eliminated plans for a 400-room hotel facing the terminal, an office building and a major airmail shipping center.

Hobbs lists three major obstacles to Dulles' faster development: Baltimore's all-out campaign to sell Friendship, airlines' apathy in switching jet flights to Dulles, and convenience of National Airport to downtown Washington.

Big airlines say they will not expand Dulles service until short-hop carriers use that facility. Short-hop lines reverse the argument and say they'll come to Dulles when the big lines offer more flights.

As for the passengers . . . they like the 15-minute, $1.35 limousine ride to National for short hops, or the slightly longer ride to Friendship with its variety of jet flights.

Suggestions to improve the Dulles situation include helicopter service, a new bridge across the Potomac and a Dulles-to-Washington monorail line.

Offering more promise is completion of an interstate highway system in Northern Virginia with a Dulles connecting link, which may "trim a few minutes" from the travel time. The $15 million Dulles Expressway, now operating, is used only for airport traffic.

Would Dulles' bleak outlook be aided if Virginia legislators passed a "whisky-by-the-drink" law?

"Amen," Hobbs said. "We have people from the capitals of the world coming into our airport, and they can's get one tiny drink."

PETITIONS

ence on the board will contribute to progress within the school district."

The petition signed by 93 teachers said:

"Our objection to Mrs. Strom is in no sense personal, for only a few of us have had any direct contact with her. However, in several instances over the past few years she has demonstrated an attitude toward education that we feel is not in the best interest of our schools.

"Even those of us who are not opposed to the values with which Mrs. Strom has been identified feel that the city council would be most ill-advised to appoint to the school board a person whose views are so mistrusted by a segment of the teaching staff."

The city clerk had on file also one letter urging appointment of Mrs. Strom, signed by Mrs. Walter J. Tait, who has been a substitute teacher in San Rafael schools, has served on committees appointed by the board of education and has been a leader in the American Field Service student exchange program.

Mrs. Bella H. Aaron, who retired from the board of education without seeking a second term because of ill health, told the Independent-Journal she has not declared support of Thomas' appointment, as has been reported. She said she favors appointment of a woman—"but not Mrs. Strom."

Robert Pence, chairman of the Marin County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, wrote the council that the ACLU "did not, as the I-J reports, 'withdraw after further investigation'" from a dispute over an American history supplementary reading list to which Mrs. Strom objected. "What we did was to follow the case until the school board adopted a policy that seemed to guarantee the principle of academic freedom from irresponsible or partisan attack," he wrote.

(Mrs. Strom objected to the book list on several counts, among them being that it was made up mainly of works of fiction, that several of the books had only tenuous connection with American history, and that the list as a whole had a "negative approach." The list has since been revised.)

The vacancy on the board of education was created by chairman C. Paul Bettini's election as mayor. The person appointed will fill the vacancy within 20 days after it occurs. If it fails to do so, the board of education shall fill the vacancy.

Bettini resigned from the board on taking office as mayor April 19, which would make May 9 the last day for the council to appoint a board member. Appointment is on the agenda for Monday night's council meeting.

Mentioned for appointment, besides Mrs. Strom and Thomas, have been Edward K. Wachsman, H. David Sokoloff, Mrs. Elizabeth Douglas and Mrs. Gladys C. Gilliland. Wachsman and Mrs. Strom are the only aspirants who have filed letters of application with the city clerk.

Nevada Governor Hits Crime Rate

SQUAW VALLEY (AP)—Gov. Frank Sawyer of Nevada called today for a rededication to respect for the law to obliterate the "sinister shadow of a rising national crime rate."

"We must teach our youngsters the importance of order and observance of the law. We must restore the policeman on the corner to his rightful position as a symbol of protection," he said in prepared remarks to the District 4-N Lions Club convention.

Dr. Marjorie Belknap is chairman of the Marin Advisory Committee for Senior Citizens.

Indictment Of Klansmen Challenged By Attorney

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—The attorney for three Ku Klux Klansmen accused of killing a white civil rights worker Thursday challenged the constitutionality of their indictments because of the way President Johnson announced their arrests.

Matt h. Murphy Jr. said the plea was filed in 2nd Judicial Court at Hayneville with Judge T. Werth Thagard who is scheduled to hear the cases beginning Monday.

Murphy, who has said he wants President Johnson to testify, said Johnson has been served a subpoena in Washington.

Murphy said he had a receipt showing that the President was served but he declined to reveal who did the serving and there was no confirmation from Washington. Presidents of the United States are immune from subpoenas and it was seen as highly unlikely that Johnson would testify.

Murphy filed with Thaggard a plea to dismiss the indictments on grounds they were unconstitutional because of Johnson's announcing on national television that four klansmen were arrested by the FBI for the March 25 sniper slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a Detroit mother of five.

In his television announcement the morning after the killing, Johnson named as Klansmen: Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, Eugene Thomas, 42, William Eaton, 41 and Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., 34, all of the Birmingham area.

Rowe was not indicted by either a federal or state grand jury as were the other three men. It was later reported that Row was a paid FBI informer and was riding with the Klansmen the night Mrs. Liuzzo was killed.

Doctor Seeks To Prevent Hearing By Marin Court

Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman has filed application to the First District Court of Appeals of California for an order preventing Marin Superior Court from taking over hearings by Marin Hospital District on his battle for surgical privileges.

His attorney, Harry Gonick of Oakland, said today the application is a request for a writ of prohibition and is an original proceeding rather than an appeal.

Also sought in the action, he said, is a writ of mandate to compel the district to complete its administrative procedure in determining if Dr. Ascherman meets hospital staff requirements.

A Marin Superior Court ruling last Dec. 22 stated the case may be heard in court after hospital administrative hearings bogged down because the latter's board had no power to force witnesses to testify.

Gonick has repeatedly maintained the matter is not legally within the jurisdiction of Superior Court. He said the applications to the appellate court are discretionary, that the court may not act upon them at all, or may set a date for the hospital district to show cause why the writs should not be granted.

Dog Catcher Gets Caught

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — The city's assistant animal control warden — dog catcher — was arrested as a parole violator after an officer recognized him.

Clinton D. Smith, 26, was sought by authorities since December. He had been on parole since August 1963, after serving five years of a 10-year sentence for check forgery. Parole Agent John Koch said Smith violated the terms of his parole when he left the state without permission.

Smith was employed as a temporary dog catcher through an agency that provides temporary help.

Mrs. Evans and Emil Johnson.

An estimate of damage was expected this afternoon, as was a ruling on how soon the building may be used again. Its owners are Mrs. Marguerite Hess Coe of San Jose, Mrs. Elizabeth Hess Fosdick of San Francisco and Ethel Marie Hess of San Francisco.

Water and smoke damage also were reported to the floors, walls and drapes of Sweaters Galore, 1328 Fourth Street. The apartments are over the store. Firemen and store owner Jack Blumenfeld were able to protect the merchandise with tarpaulins, however.

Substitute Beatle Has Money Woes

LONDON (AP) — "Standing in for Ringo was the worst thing that ever happened to me," said Jimmy Nicol, a substitute Beatle last year and a bankrupt today.

For a while last year Jimmy beat the Beatles' drums while Ringo Starr was ill, and took home a Beatle-sized pay check.

Ringo recovered and Jimmy did well for a while with a group of his own. But in the bankruptcy court yesterday he said his debts total $11,380 and he has only $140.

"I'd had half a million pounds worth of publicity. Everyone in show business said I couldn't miss. I was the hottest name there was.

"But after the headlines died I began dying too. No one wanted to know me any more."

Korean Air Force Gets New Planes

SUWON AIR BASE, South Korea (AP) — The South Korean air force put into service today its first 20 new F5 jet fighters.

Acquired from the United States under the military assistance program, the supersonic planes were commissioned less than 72 hours after an attack by two North Korean MIG17 jets on an American RB47 reconnaissance plane off the Korean coast.

Jean Harlow Kin Is Suing

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — A second multimillion dollar damage suit — this one for $5 million—was filed today against the author, publishers and a distributor of a recently published biography of actress Jean Harlow.

The suit, over Irving Shulman's Harlow, an Intimate Biography, was filed in circuit court by Mrs. Violette H. Bello, widow of the star's stepfather. Miss Harlow died in 1937 of uremic poisoning.

Last November, Dr. Mont Clair Carpenter, the father of Miss Harlow, filed a $3 million suit in the same court against the same defendants.

Two Power Contracts Announced By Udall

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall today announced the award of contracts totaling $52 million to General Electric Co. and Allmanna Svenska Elektriska Aktiebolaget, a Swedish firm, to furnish two of the four direct current terminals required for the Pacific Northwest-Pacific Southwest power intertie.

One terminal will be installed at the Dalles, Ore., as the northern terminus of a 750,000 volt transmission line to run 827 miles to Los Angeles. The other will be at the Hoover Dam on the Colorado River and will form the southern terminus of another 830-mile extra-high voltage line also running to The Dalles on the Columbia River.

Earthquake Area Adds Up Damage

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Washington state counted five dead today and damage in the millions of dollars in the wake of the Pacific Northwest's worst earthquake in more than a decade.

In Seattle, the hardest hit area, Frank Brock, assistant superintendent of schools, said the loss to the system "should easily be in excess of $1 million."

Eight public schools were closed and two may not be back in operation for some time, he said.

Ensley Llewellyn, state Civil Defense director, said it was impossible to give an accurate damage estimate until reports from around the state had been compiled.

Llewellyn estimated damage to light fixtures and elevator shafts in the State Capitol building at Olympia at $200,000 and damage to a road and railroad in the area at possibly another $200,000.

Some roads heaved upward, others sagged downward; bridges swayed and some freeway ramps buckled as the temblor rolled through yesterday morning.

Raymond Haughton, 52, and Eugene Goulet, 40, were near a 14-story tower at the Fisher Flouring Mills when a 50,000-gallon wooden water tank atop the structure exploded. Torrents of water and twisted timbers cascaded down upon them. Haughton died in the debris, Goulet was injured critically.

Adolphus Lewis, 60, was hurrying in the bright sun to his usual morning breakfast of mush and tea at a restaurant near his downtown rooming house. A concrete parapet struck him down. A pile of bricks quickly covered the dead man.

Mrs. James Johnson, 56, of Seattle, died while talking on the telephone. Ethel Webb, 75, Tacoma and Zenola Lorenz, Olympia, were found dead. All were victims of heart attacks.

More than 30 persons were injured and treated at hospitals in the Seattle area. Dozens were reported to have suffered minor injuries elsewhere throughout the shaken region.

The earthquake knocked the needles off the University of Washington seismograph, but seismologists elsewhere said it registered 6.5 to 7 on the Richter Scale. The devastating Alaska earthquake of March 27, 1964, was rated at 8.3 on the Richter Scale. That one killed 113.

Just 16 years ago this month the Pacific Northwest was jolted by an earthquake that registered 7 on the scale. That temblor, on April 13, 1949, killed eight persons and did $25 million in property damage.

Although Norman Rasmussen, university seismologist, was unable to get a Richter reading, he said he measured the quake on the Mercalli Scale and that it showed yesterday stronger than the one in 1949.

Rasmussen said death and destruction from this quake would be lighter, however, because the tremor started an estimated 30 miles below the surface of the ground.

The epicenter was pinpointed in the vicinity of Dabob Bay on Hood Canal about 30 miles westnorthwest of Seattle.

The quake rumbled through British Columbia where buildings swayed and windows rattled on coastal Vancouver Island and 300 miles inland at Trail. It was felt in northern Idaho, western Montana and Oregon, but no injuries or damage were reported in those states.

High up in the rotunda, columns had been sheared off at the base and the five-ton chandelier that dangles at the end of a 110-foot chain turned in a small orbit for more than an hour.

Panes in the skylight clattered down on desks of the legislators whose morning sessions had not yet begun. Legislators, in session for a record 106 days, went home until Monday.

"We were pretty lucky," Evans said. "If it had been another 30 seconds at that intensity it would have been much worse."

He said President Johnson telephoned his sympathy and an offer of help. Alaska's Gov. William Egan also called and offered aid.

Nazi Leader Gets Fine, Jail

GLENDALE (UPI) — Ralph Forbes, the western leader of the American Nazi Party, today began serving five days in jail for violations of the Glendale building code.

Forbes was sentenced to 55 days in jail and fined $550 by Judge Lee B. Stanton yesterday, but the judge suspended 55 days of the term on the grounds Forbes pay the fine by Monday afternoon. He also placed Forbes on one year probation.

The Nazi leader was convicted of illegally converting his home for political meetings. The city has been attempting to prevent the Nazis from using the house as their western headquarters.

Pope Appeals For Talks To Avert Wars

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI appealed today for "conversations and negotiations at all levels" to avert the threat of war. He made his plea in the second encyclical letter of his reign.

The pontiff said the international situation is "darker and more uncertain than ever, now that grave new threats are endangering the supreme benefit of world peace."

He did not mention specific world trouble spots by name. But he spoke of "unspeakable sufferings caused by agitation, guerrilla warfare, acts of war, ever growing in extent and intensity, which could at any moment produce a spark for a terrible fresh conflict."

The reference seemed to apply particularly to Viet Nam.

The 2,000-word encyclical was titled "Mense Maio" — the month of May — from the first two words of its Latin text.

Addressing all Roman Catholics, Pope Paul urged prayers for world peace and for the success of the second Vatican Ecumenical Council, which resumes for its final session Sept. 14.

He noted that the month of May is especially dedicated to devotion to the Virgin Mary, and exhorted his flock:

"So, venerable brothers, let our prayers ascend to Mary in this month of hers.

"We beg all who hold responsibility in public life not to remain deaf to the unanimous desire of mankind which wants peace," the Pope said.

"We ask that they do all in their power to preserve the peace that is threatened, and continue at all time to foster and encourage conversations and negotiations at all levels, that the dangerous resort to force with all its lamentable consequences, material, spiritual and moral, may be halted."

Reinforced Dikes Hold Back Surging River

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The swollen Mississippi River hammered at western Illinois, eastern Iowa and northeastern Missouri today as reinforced dikes held back the surging waters.

The crest receded from its 22.48-foot record at Rock Island, Ill., and advanced toward Keithsburg, Ill., a town of 963 about 55 miles downstream from the Rock Island-Davenport, Iowa, industrial complex.

At Fulton, Ill., Gov. Otto Kerner called out 30 more National Guardsmen to help the 3,400 residents in the town surrounded by water.

The Red Cross reported that a dike patrolman fell through a three-foot breach in a levee along flooding Eliza Creek near Aledo, northeast of Keithsburg, but was quickly rescued. His identity was unavailable.

Workers quickly clogged the crack with 1,500 sandbags. Some 25,000 acres of farmland and 100 homes would have been flooded if the dike broke, the Red Cross said.

The Red Cross estimates that the Mississippi flooding has made more than 38,000 persons homeless. Red Cross workers are feeding 11,650 flood volunteers and housing 1,375 evacuees in 19 shelters along the Mississippi.

Most of Quincy's 45,000 residents live on a high bluff overlooking the river. But the dike protecting an industrial complex along the roaring Mississippi burst Wednesday night.

Later, three secondary levees also gave way, one developing a 300-foot gash. But most of the 5,500-acre area remained undamaged behind sandbags.

Quincy has become a railroad center because of the floods. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad; the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad, and other carriers rerouted their main lines through the city because Quincy is one of the few points where they can cross the river.

The river hit a 24.81-foot crest at Muscatine, Iowa, and immediately began to drop.

At Hannibal, Mo., boyhood home of writer Mark Twain, the river is due to crest Sunday at 25 feet, the highest in the city's history.

But 6 to 18 inches of water covered 15 city blocks, forcing 23 Hannibal families from their homes.

Driver, 82, Hurt In Auto Collision

Arthur T. Kjellman, 82, of Forestville, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car collision yesterday on Highway 101, one-fifth of a mile north of Spencer Avenue, Sausalito.

California highway patrolmen reported the Kjellman car, southbound, skidded into another southbound car driven by Paul L. Cooley, 52, of Sonoma. Kjellman suffered a cut eyelid.

Five Injured In Smashup

Five residents of Synanon House in Marshall suffered cuts and bruises yesterday when their car collided head-on with a truck.

Leland H. Shriver Jr., 26, of 15622 Redwood Highway, Novato, driver of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. truck, was ticketed by highway patrolmen for failing to drive on the right side of the road. The accident happened on Shoreline Highway about four miles north of Point Reyes Station.

Driver of the car, Ernest F. Vollhard, 53, was heading north when the southbound truck struck the car. Passengers in the car were Carole Frost, Joseph Leonard, Frank De Palma and Luis A. Prilla. All were treated at Marin General Hospital.

'Door Open' For Spaceman To Lean Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials are literally leaving the door open for an American astronaut to possibly leave a space craft within the next couple of months.

No "extravehicular" experiments are officially planned before a two-man Gemini space spot set for this fall. But there is a possibility that an astronaut aboard a Gemini capsule expected to be launched in June may be permitted to lean halfway out of the protection of his cabin.

The astronaut would be a 33-year-old Air Force captain, Edward H. White II, who is scheduled to be the co-pilot on the flight.

White participated in a news conference yesterday with Air Force Capt. James A. McDevitt, 35, the pilot of the four-day planned mission, their backup pilots and Dr. George E. Mueller, head of manned flight programs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Mueller said that whether White will make the attempt hinges on whether new spacesuits now being developed and new equipment are ready in time. He said the decision could be made as late as one day before liftoff from the Gemini pad at Cape Kennedy.

A Russian, P. I. Leonov, crawled all the way out of a spacecraft and did somersaults for a television camera last March. No duplication of this feat is planned by NASA before the fall flight at the very earliest.

Industry came late to the Chesapeake country; agriculture and fishing still predominate. In southern Maryland, tobacco remains a principal crop.

ABEL IS DECLARED STEEL PRESIDENT

Incumbent McDonald Says He Plans To Contest Union Election Results

PITTSBURGH (AP) — I. W. Abel was declared the victor today in a bitter fight for president of the United Steelworkers Union, and incumbent David J. McDonald said he will contest the result.

"I am president of this union until the first of June," McDonald told a news conference.

Asked if he would appeal to the Labor Department for an investigation aimed at a new election, McDonald said: "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

He estimated it would take several weeks to exhaust union executive board appeal procedures.

McDonald also confirmed reports he was in Washington yesterday and talked with Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz. He said they met to talk over the steel situation.

Wirtz said in a telephone interview last night he had no indication whether McDonald would ask for a federal investigation under the Landrum-Griffin Act which some administration officials feel would cloud the union's bargaining with the steel industry and perhaps even lead to a new strike crisis in the fall.

In outlining plans to appeal his election defeat reported by the union tellers, McDonald said:

"Under the constitution of the United Steelworkers this report is the first, not the last, word."

He said the tellers have "a very limited function" under the union constitution and are restricted in regard to conducting vote recounts and investigating irregularities in local votes.

McDonald said the steelworkers' constitution provides for the appeal of election reports.

"I shall ask the international executive board to take such action," he said.

He added that he is reluctant to engage in a long and protracted contest of the election, but that he has certain personal obligations after devoting 40 years to building the union.

McDonald said that in talking with Wirtz, he made "no appeal and no plans of any sort."

Union tellers announced earlier today that Abel, 56-year-old secretary-treasurer of the USW, had defeated McDonald by 10,142 votes in the Feb. 9 election.

The tellers' report said Abel polled 308,910 votes and McDonald 298,768.

The main question now is whether McDonald, head of the union since 1952, will seek a new election under federal labor law, thus perhaps clouding steel contract negotiations during the four-month strike truce ending Sept. 1.

Abel told a news conference: "We accept the verdict of our membership with profound gratitude."

He said the task of negotiating new contracts with the basic steel industry is one of the immediate challenges facing the union.

Abel said he had had no discussions with McDonald concerning the deposed president's future.

Government officials had been deeply concerned about the effects of a steel strike on the nation's economy before agreement was reached earlier this week to extend the deadline originally scheduled for 12:01 a.m. tomorrow.

Abel will take office June 1 for a four-year term.

It had been reported earlier that much of Abel's majority was won in Canada.

Joseph P. Molony was declared the elected vice president and Walter J. Burke secretary-treasurer. They ran on Abel's ticket.

The report said Molony defeated incumbent Howard Hague, 300,419 to 278,786. Burke polled 313,299 votes to defeat Al Whitehouse who had 266,381.

Jury Finds Driver Innocent

Frank Coffey, 39, whose drunken driving trial was rescheduled six times in Marin Court, was found innocent yesterday by a jury after only an hour's deliberation.

Coffey, of Richmond, was arrested by California Highway Patrol in March of 1964 on Highway 101. A series of continuances for various reasons delayed the contested case. He was represented by Harold R. Hayes, San Rafael attorney.

Michael Frederick Hemovich, 51, of San Francisco, was fined $350 and placed on summary probation for six months yesterday by Judge Peter Allen Smith for drpnken driving. He was arrested April 19, 1964, by sheriff's officers.

Robert Dana Colburn of Cotati was fined $220 for drunken driving. Colburn was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Dec. 31 on Highway 101. Also fined $220 on the same charge was Ethyl Frances Traynor, 71, of San Francisco. She was arrested April 18 on Magnolia Avenue by Larkspur police.

Franklin Kane, 37, of 36 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael, was fined $166 for drunken driving on Bridgeway in Sausalito. He was arrested by Sausalito police Jan. 15.

Charles Bernard Donnellan Jr., 38, was fined $220 for drunken driving. Donnellan, of 308 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax, was arrested by Fairfax police on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on April 20.

Robert Virgil Conrad, 51, of 1615 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was sentenced to 10 days in county jail for drunken driving. He was arrested by the Highway Patrol on Freitas Parkway on April 3.

Judge Disqualified In Bank Squabble

A faction in the Redwood National Bank officer-voting struggle yesterday exercised its peremptory challenge privilege in a Marin Superior Court injunction case by disqualifying the judge, Samuel W. Gardiner.

The order, signed by Thomas F. Keating, presiding judge, came after the bank's attorneys, the San Francisco firm of Chickering and Gregory, requested Judge Gardiner to voluntarily withdraw from the hearing.

Judge Gardiner refused. The peremptory challenge motion was then carried on to Judge Keating. Upon disqualifying Gardiner Judge Keating named visiting Judge Ben V. Curler of Lassen County to hear the injunction case next Monday.

The injunction is sought by four of the bank's eight voting trustees to prevent an election by shareholders on reducing the number of directors from 11 to seven.

Judge Gardiner was disqualified on challenge by bank directors and officers who seek the reduction in the number of directors.

Ground for the disqualification motion was that Judge Gardiner is "prejudiced" against one of the seven defendants, bank president Byron W. Leydecker, and is "against the interest of the defendants in this action."

Leydecker supported the motion with an affidavit stating his belief that Judge Gardiner's prejudice against him would prevent a fair and impartial hearing.

The prejudice was alleged to exist because Judge Gardiner was once a law partner of Jordan L. Martinelli, retired Superior Court judge who is one of the Redwood National Bank voting trustees.

Judge Gardiner said yesterday he declined voluntary withdrawal because "I know 10,000 people in the county," and he saw no need to withdraw from every case where someone he knows is involved.

Bank directors had called a shareholders' meeting for April 22 to vote on reducing the number of directors and electing new officers. Four of the voting trustees filed for a restraining order to prevent the election. They are Douglas M. Christensen, Roger J. Darrow and Sherman Leland Jr., all ex-directors, and William G. Corrigan.

Judge Gardiner issued a temporary restraining order and set hearing for 2 p.m. Monday on whether it should be made permanent.

The plaintiffs contend the change in the board would violate a Jan. 5, 1963, trust agreement, made for a seven-year period, giving the eight voting trustees sole right to determine the number of directors.

Named as defendants, besides Leydecker, were Abe Blumenfeld, William R. Berglund, Robert B. Grady and Dr. John C. Siemens, all directors; W. J. Waksvik, bank secretary, and Dale E. Walter, senior vice president.

Leydecker, Blumenfeld, Siemens, the four plaintiffs, and Jordan L. Martinelli Sr. are the voting trustees.

When Leydecker adjourned the April 22 shareholders' meeting in response to the court order, the dissident trustees held their own session and elected new directors.

'Mad' Pair Planning To Bike To Alaska

Being called "mad" is only spurring on two young men, one from Muir Beach and the other from San Francisco, who intend to make Anchorage, Alaska, by September on bicycles.

John Veloz, 28, of Muir Beach, and his friend, Robert Crowther, 32, of San Francisco, quit their jobs in the shipping department at General Electric Co., X-Ray-Medical in San Francisco, to wheel northward at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Neither claims to be an accomplished cyclist. In fact, Veloz said he has not ridden a bicycle since he was 14. They have new 10-speed models, and Veloz said he hadn't yet learned how to work the gears.

Nevertheless, their ride will commence in San Francisco at North Beach. They will ride to Sausalito, then to Muir Beach, where Veloz will say goodbye to his wife. Crowther is a bachelor.

They will continue north along State Highway 1.

"People say we're mad, that we'll never make it," said Veloz.

"We believe we will. No turning back. We will learn (to ride) en route."

"We're giving ourselves four months to make it. We may do it in less. We will stop and look around and take photographs and visit friends in Oregon."

Asked what his wife, Evelyn, thinks, Veloz replied: "She thinks it's marvelous . . . the chance only comes once.

"We're traveling very, very light. We'll have a camping stove, sleeping bags, mess kits and ponchos. We'll take some books along. We haven't decided what to take.

"We intend to sleep out-of-doors at all times, regardless of the weather. We can't afford to go any place else."

School Pay Schedule Up In Air

The new Novato Unified School board nast night could not agree on a salary for next school year after three and one-half hours of discussion at a special meeting.

The board adjourned until 8:30 a.m. tomorrow to continue the discussion.

The old Novato Unified School District pay scale started at $5,040 with a top of $10,176. The San Jose District had a pay scale starting at $5,512 with a top of $10,192.

Teachers also asked $10 per month for a hospital and medical plan, which would cost the district about $45,000 annually, according to Supt. James G. Bunker.

Brown Picks Marinite For CYA

John Wesley Brewer of San Rafael, member of the California Adult Authority since 1959, has been appointed to a four-year term on the California Youth Authority.

Brewer switches places with Douglas Barrett of Sacramento, who goes from the Youth Authority to the Adult Authority.

In making the announcement, Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he is starting a policy of rotating members of the two boards whenever possible to draw the various paroling agencies into closer harmony.

Brewer and his wife and two children live at 134 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael. He served on the Attorney General's Citizens' Advisory Committee on Crime and Delinquency Prevention, the Committee on Delinquency and Crime Prevention of the Western Probation, Parole and Correctional Assn., and the executive committee of the Los Angeles County Committee on Human Relations.

School Labor Proposal Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation aimed at "good faith" bargaining between local school boards and representatives of teachers and other school employees was approved by the Assembly Education Committee.

The proposal, made by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr., D - Merced, was opposed by Henry Zivetz of the American Federation of Teachers. He said that local bargaining was "meaningless" and only one group could accomplish teachers aims.

The measure was approved yesterday by a vote of 13-2.

Library Aid Plan Sent To Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Local library aid in the shape of $800,000 for 1966-67 has cleared the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

The proposals, authored by Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie D-Antioch, would bring increase in the state aid from the present two per cent to 10 per cent in 1969-70. It was sent to the floor yesterday.

Please don't drink the suspension system...
Not good for you: we had to add dye to the alcohol-and-water mix in order to avoid paying a liquor tax on every MG Sports Sedan we import.
Besides, there are greater kicks to be had from our new Hydrolastic® Suspension. Teamed with front wheel drive, it gives our five-passenger economy sedan the handling qualities of an expensive sports car. Permanently sealed-in fluid replaces metal springs and shock absorbers. You corner flat, ride level and hold firm to the road. Most intoxicating, whether you motor for fun or family.
The Sports Sedan earns its name in other ways, as well. MG's 1100 c.c. twin-carburetor power plant hastens you on your way. The big fade-free disc brakes impose control seldom experienced off the race course. The bucket seats and 4-speed stick shift add to the sport.
And it's all yours at a price usually referred to as laughably low.
Want a drink? See your favorite bartender.

Redwood Girl, 18, To Reign Over County As 'Miss Marin'

Judi Woodmansee, an 18-year-old senior at Redwood High School, was selected as "Miss Marin" last night at a suspense-packed beauty pageant in the College of Marin gymnasium.

Judi was crowned by Miss California of 1964, Jeanne Venables, after more than two hours of competition which attracted more than 500 onlookers.

The dark-eyed, dark-haired beauty was slightly stunned, but smiling when she stepped forward to receive her title, tiara and bouquet.

She plans to attend College of Marin, then a fashion school and eventually become a fashion coordinator, but for the next month she will reign over May in Marin.

While awaiting the final decision of the judges, Judi admitted that she was "scared to death," but managed to maintain her poise.

As "Miss Marin," she became eligible to compete for the title of Miss California in Los Angeles May 15-16, and if selected would compete in the Miss Universe pageant in Miami, Fla.

She also became eligible to compete in the International Beauty Congress in Long Beach, July 3-14, and was awarded 15 gifts from Marin merchants.

Judi was selected from a field of 19 entrants, who were judged in gowns and swim suits.

The field was narrowed to 10, then to five, who underwent additional judging on poise and personality during a short interview.

Then one-by-one, master of ceremonies Hugh Turner announced the runners-up in reverse order, until there were only two contestants left: Judi and Melinda M. Magarity, 18, of 42 Prince Royal Passage, Corte Madera, a College of Marin student.

When Melinda was named first runner-up, the crowd, which had been growing impatient, burst into applause, and Judi was hailed as "Miss Marin."

Other finalists were, Karen Hancock, 18 or 37 Broadview Drive, San Rafael, third; Geri Lawrence, 18, of 8 Alexander Avenue, San Rafael, fourth, and Jeanne Elliott, 20, of 65 Summit Avenue, Mill Valley, fifth. Each runner-up received a trophy.

During the wait for announcement of the winner, Miss California reported that the gold-colored dress she was wearing was a $1,500 original, one of the fringe benefits of her title. She is a school teacher in Sacramento.

Judges were Dr. Leonard B. Stallcup, president of the California Beauty Pageant; Kay Wilson, former model and commentator; Jean Kuret, Pan American Airways; Duane M. Wittmayer, vice president of traffic and sales, San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Co., and Ken Molino, San Rafael photographer.

The pageant, scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m., was an hour late getting under way because a car breakdown delayed Dr. Stallcup.

Six Marines from M Co., Third Bn., 23rd Marine Corps Reserve of San Rafael escorted the contestants during the pageant.

The pageant, sponsored by the Marin Visitors Bureau, opened the month-long May in Marin celebration which continued with a kickoff luncheon at noon today at Dominic's restaurant.

Ann Shea and Caroline Beach of the San Rafael Studio of Charm coached the contestants for the pageant. Mrs. Esther Dearth, Mrs. Jack McCarthy and Mrs. William D. Fusselman were co-chairmen of the event.

Alumni Day Slated At Military Academy

Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California and chairman of the academy's board of trustees, will be guest of honor at lunch at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael, which will start the day's program at 11 a.m.

A band concert will be held at 2:10 p.m. on the academy campus. Individual drill and company competitions, a presentation by the lower school drill unit and a demonstration of physical drill with rifles are included in the program.

The battalion review, scheduled to start at 3:35 p.m., will conclude the day's formal activities.

Welfare Plan Passes Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Welfare legislation which could cut off aid to dependent children whose parents refuse work has been approved by the Senate.

This places more responsibility upon the shoulder of the parent, said Sen. Vernon L. Sturgeon, R-Paso Robles, author of the bill.

Other welfare measures passed to the Assembly yesterday would require unemployed parents to submit semimonthly, rather than quarterly, reports showing there was no work available, and provide that aid to unemployed families would not continue past July 1, 1967 unless federal participation continued.

Farm Housing Costs Held High

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Solution of California's substandard farm housing problem would cost $1 billion, according to an assistant of Gov. Brown.

Dr. Paul O'Rourke, anti-poverty planning assistant, said yesterday that the state should avoid building flimsy housing that would soon become substandard.

"One billion dollars would be necessary for a cleanup of the deteriorated, dilapidated housing," he said at a special conference on farm housing called by Brown.

Evidence is mounting that some meteorites come from the moon, scientists report.

THIRD NOVATO FIRE STATION FOR SAN MARIN

Sketch by Gromme and Priestley, San Rafael architectural firm, shows how Novato's third fire station, to serve San Marin, is expected to look when completed. The Novato Fire District board approved preliminary plans this week. The station, expected to cost $102,600, will be slightly larger than the district's No. 2 station on South Novato Boulevard. It will face San Ramon Drive at San Marin Drive.

Some Sewer Assessments Are Reduced

After reducing assessments on 14 properties in the Sunny Oaks area, directors of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District last night confirmed a total assessment of $520,330 for improvements to the Gallinas Village sewer system.

The board heard reports on each of 26 parcels in the Sunny Oaks area from engineer J. Warren Nute. The reductions took $7,900 off the total assessment.

This will not mean an increase in assessment on other properties in the district, recording secretary Helen Foulkes said, because the reduction was taken off the contingency fund.

On April 15, several residents of Sunny Oaks, now using septic tanks, protested the need for sewer service.

The board adjourned to 7:30 p.m. next Thursday to take up routine business that has been postponed due to the Gallinas Village matter, Mrs. Foulkes said.

Contract for the improvement of the Gallinas Village system is not expected to be awarded until the May 13 meeting.

Many Marinites Pay Tribute To Retiring Judge Brusatori

Judge N. Charles Brusatori last night received a scroll, a gavel mounted on a plaque, a slide projector and a host of compliments.

The occasion was a dinner of the Marin County Bar Assn. at Peacock Gap Country Club honoring the veteran jurist, who is retiring June 1 from the Marin County Superior Court bench.

The dining room at the club was packed. And chairman Peter H. Behr of the county board of supervisors observed, "If this dinner were not by invitation only, there would be no hall in Marin County big enough to hold it."

Speakers who paid tribute to Judge Brusatori were Behr, who presented him with the scroll carrying a laudatory resolution by the board of supervisors; Thomas F. Keating, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court; Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court; Carlos Freitas of the board of governors of the State Bar; Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of the District Court of Appeal, and Wallace S. Myers, who spoke on behalf of the bar association and presented the plaque with gavel.

Attorney Howard Hawkins, chairman of the dinner, presented Brusatori with the slide projector as a gift from those attending.

Brusatori, who is retiring on doctor's orders because of a heart ailment, was visibly moved by all the compliments.

"First," he said in a brief response, "I want to thank the people of Marin County for having given me the opportunity to serve them, and I want to thank Almighty God for giving me that same opportunity."

Sheriff Continues Probe In Murder

Sheriff's investigators today reported only a continued search for leads in the April 16 stabbing death of Nonita Vicera, 16, Daly City girl whose body was found three days later on a Marin County hillside.

Sought on a murder charge and a Federal Bureau of Investigation complaint of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution is the victim's boyfriend, Virgilio Restauro, 24-year-old San Francisco man who disappeared from his dishwasher's job the morning of the slaying.

May has been proclaimed "Senior Citizen Month" as well as "May in Marin" month and "S.O.S. Month"—the last for the "Stamp Out Sickness" campaign of county health departments.

Nursery Estate Value Is Set

Senator Says Re-Map Closed Issue In D.C.

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's state senators, who've journeyed from Hawaii to Vermont rallying anti-reapportionment forces, haven't made their case in the most important capital of all—Washington.

That's the word today from a top member of the State Senate, just back from what he indicated was a grim trip to the halls of Congress.

Sen. George Miller Jr.'s report to his reapportionment-threatened colleagues came as the upper house moved to guarantee retirement benefits to senators unseated by this year's expected redistricting.

Shortly before the Martinez Democrat rose on the floor yesterday, the Senate Finance Committee he chairs sent to the floor a bill by Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point, chairman of the reapportionment committee.

It provides that legislators with four years service who lose their jobs from reapportionment still would get retirement benefits even if they can't now meet rules governing the generous system.

Later, Miller spoke these words to a hushed chamber:

"Most of the members of Congress are unable to get excited at all about what may happen to some state Senate somewhere. I don't think we've made our case."

Pending on the California floor is the upper house's bill it hopes will satisfy a federal court's July 1 deadline to change from geographical districting to population-based apportionment.

Miller is part of a squad of lawmakers who have ranged far and wide to various states, urging their legislatures to support a constitutional amendment that would nullify the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling that both houses of legislatures must be based on population.

But, he told his 38 colleagues, since reapportionment is under way in a number of states, congressmen often told him in the nation's capital that "Your issue Mr. State Senator, is a dead issue."

Aside from not understanding the basic issue, he continued, reapportionment is tangled with civil rights and the right to vote. "These . . . have been joined to the point where there is complete confusion."

Vitally needed, the senator explained, is a concentrated drive in the next month or so to enlist respected congressional spokesmen in the anti-reapportionment battle.

They must "talk about this problem as a fundamental issue of government . . . laid out in terms of a constitutional crisis." The crisis, Miller added, came when the U.S. Supreme Court "said the people cannot and shall not determine how they will be governed" in their states.

Declaring no one should support rural domination of both houses of legislatures — which the court aimed at halting—Miller contended it substituted "what is in effect an urban domination of all 50 state legislatures."

The Senate's No. 2 Democrat did say "We have made some progress" in the anti-reapportionment crusade. But still, he commented, "I find there is a complete lack of understanding of the problem involved."

New Penalty Trials Ordered For Inmates

New penalty trials for three San Quentin Prison Death Row inmates have been ordered by the State Supreme Court, James W. L. Park, associate warden, reported today.

Death penalties imposed on crime partners Joseph Rosoto, 41, John Frank Vlahovich, 34, and Donald Glen Franklin, 37, convicted of murder in Orange County in 1960, were reversed by the court on the basis of the Morse decision, Park said.

The Morse decision made new penalty trials mandatory in cases when the jury was told a convicted killer sentenced to life imprisonment, could be eligible for parole in seven years.

If the state attorney general does not file an appeal on the court's reversal of the trio's penalty in 30 days, Orange County will schedule a new penalty trial for the convicted killers, Park said.

Brothers 2 Opens At Northgate Hick'ry Pit Due In Strawberry

Northgate restaurant Brothers 2 opened this morning, and by noon tables were well occupied both by visitors to the shopping center and by merchants and their employees.

Brothers 2 has its main entrance facing the West parking lot, but there is a convenience entry and corridor from the mall opposite the Emporium. You might call this operation "de luxe hofbrau," and to a great extent it is self-service.

There are two "line-ups" for food. Manager Virgil Val refers to them as the hofbrau side and the "pit" side, the latter serving items from the broiler which require more time to prepare. Such dishes (steaks, etc.) are brought to the table, and certain other table service is offered.

Prices are in the reasonable range and the restaurant will be open seven days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Incidentally, there's a special Sunday morning ranch breakfast on the bill of fare. Wine and beer license has been approved.

WE HAVE WORD of one other new restaurant expected to open sometime between the middle of June and the middle of July.

This will be known as the Hick'ry Pit of Marin County and will be located in the Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center. It is the first branch of a San Francisco-headquartered corporation which has its main restaurant at 3545 California Street. According to Jim Rivers, assistant manager — and who will probably manage the Marin place—the specialty here is barbecued foods over a wood fire; and a "secret" process for keeping juices in the meat. It will not be self-service.

With this name, there is likely to be some confusion between the Strawberry restaurant and the long-established Hickory Pit in San Rafael, now operated by Angelo and Vera Camporeale. I doubt that the new Hick'ry Pit owners were even aware of this complication.

THE VALLEY out San Geronimo way has never looked fresher and greener, and with daylight savings it's light enough to enjoy a ride to De la Montanya's. Even later, driving is no problem—just watch more carefully for the turn-off from Sir Francis Drake Highway.

Marvin Joyce is the chef. He's fairly well known in these parts and previously has served at such places as Sonoma Grove, Rancho Rafael, Franchini's and the Cellars. Marvin has a few recipes he's picked up over the years and his menu is well balanced. "All you can eat" specialties right now are the steamed clams on Wednesday nights and crab cioppino Friday nights. We found the scallopini and sweetbreads very good.

Here we ran into waitress Betty Schaller at the tables (she used to be at San Rafael Joe's) and son Art who was making his debut at bussing—and doing very well, too.

And we met one couple who makes De la Montanya's a regular port of call three times a week—which may not seem particularly noteworthy, except that they only drive each time from La Honda, San Mateo County, about 80 miles away. They like the atmosphere.

YOLANDA APOSTOLI has sold out her Dunk-It Coffee Shop on downtown Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, and will take at least a two-months vacation. Sprinkled undoubtedly with frequent appearances on the golf course which she has practically abandoned for the last two years.

Premises were to have been turned over today to new owner Avon Ray of Santa Rosa. He was formerly manager of the Red Rooster in Sebastopol, and I understand he will retain the Dunk-It name, keeping the operation unchanged and remain open Mondays through Saturdays from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The transaction was a combination of a Harry Abras listing and sale by Peterson and Greene.

THERE HASN'T BEEN a real snappy Sabella's contest for some time, and I'm glad to see one show up on the calendar.

This is a month-long affair through May for youngsters under 13 to participate again in the "Biggest Fish Story Ever Told," which develops some mighty wild tales—real classics in the tall-story line. Trust the kids to use their imaginations.

The contest marks Sabella's 14th year in Marin and it will provide a boy's or girl's new bicycle to some lucky winner. Entrants must confine their compositions to not more than 150 words and must meet a deadline of May 31.

All entries must include name, address and age of the child and be deposited with or mailed to Sabella's at 555 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley. Parents may help copy the story but are not permitted to aid in its composition. In addition to receiving a new bicycle, winning boy or girl and family will be invited as dinner guests to Sabella's.

SOME OF THAT remodeling which Harry and Nola Shurtleff had planned for Elwood's out at Stinson Beach has already come to pass. Interior of the bar and restaurant has been completely gone over, and exterior work is in the offing.

A conversation piece is the large mahogany bar built by Wayne Nielsen in the shape of a question mark. No doubt this design has some significance which eludes me at the moment. Harry and Nola would rather you guessed the reason than be told. New fixtures include heating, air conditioning and lighting.

ANOTHER NEW RESTAURANT will appear in the north-of-San Rafael area by the end of this month or first part of June. This is a new venture of Don McLaughlin and Peggy De Mars who now have the Purple Pup on the west side of Redwood Highway.

New restaurant will be on the east side where Brummark's used to be—another hofbrau type of operation—probably open for breakfasts, lunch and dinner—at least during the summer months.

New name hasn't been decided. Peg says they will get away from the "Purple Pup," which they will continue to operate until the new opening. Hofbrau House, maybe.

WEDNESDAY when I checked out remodeling progress at Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia, workmen on the job swore by all their 10-penny nails that they would have the place ready for a reopening tonight.

It did seem that their optimism might be justified, but with all due respect to their skill and working speed, something unforeseen could occur. Better phone Le Chalet first, before you go, to make sure.

In any event don't expect everything to be completed, but it will be in far more convenient form than before. Finishing touches should make it a very attractive little restaurant. "Little" hardly seems appropriate any more, with all the extra space being added.

HAVE YOU VISITED the Great Wall Restaurant lately in San Rafael?

The former severe look is gone, and a sense of intimacy has been achieved with the use of cleverly arranged planters, bamboo screening and other decorations. Tables seem more secluded.

And menu changes are more favorable to the luncheoner and diner. More dishes added to most special Chinese dinners (now $1.50 for a single person) and a la carte has been slightly reduced.

One-half of a fried chicken is an everyday feature on the lunch at $1.35.

DURING REFURBISHING at Mission Inn, San Rafael, there's a $1.95 dinner special in effect—separate from the regular menu. One entree choice, changed nightly. Incidentally there's a service bar in operation in the dining room during the time the Bardolis are playing (from 9:30 p.m.) Use the doorway under the Bardoli Trio sign.

Stop-Work Asked On Apartments

The Marin County Planning Department has asked a stop-work order on construction of a 32-unit apartment 100 feet west of Miller Avenue near the southern limits of Mill Valley.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said today he asked the county building department to order work stopped while his department conducts an investigation.

Builder is Loyal Davis who said he owned all the land when he received architectural approval for the project. It appears now there may be another owner involved, Dobbs said.

It is the first time in five years that the award has been received at Tamalpais. Rose Marie is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Tacherra.

Escaped Felons Are Captured

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said the prison had been notified that Louis G. Hernandez, 44, and Reginald M. Wood, 28, were both caught about 10:45 a.m. by Humboldt County sheriff's officers. There were no details on the capture, he said.

Both prisoners are from Los Angeles County.

Well, not for *every*body.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

FIRST LOOK AT SPACECRAFT

San Carlos was named for Saint Charles Borromeo, Archbishop of Milan. The name was chosen because the Portola expedition first saw San Francisco Bay from the hills behind San Carlos on Nov. 4, 1769, the feast day of St. Charles.

San Juan Bautista was named for St. John the Baptist and is the location of Mission San Juan Bautista in San Benito County.

Lerch Quits Post; Raps Supervisors

Alton S. Lerch of Novato, recently replaced on the Marin County Redevelopment Agency by the board of supervisors, has submitted his resignation from the Marin County Housing Authority.

He did it with a mild rap on the board.

His letter of resignation says it would be unjust for taxpayers to pay mileage for him to continue on the housing authority during the brief meetings that follow the redevelopment agency sessions.

"It is only proper to utilize Mr. Herman Hale," Lerch wrote. Hale, of Larkspur, was named to replace Lerch on the redevelopment agency in supervisors' action Tuesday.

Lerch expressed his appreciation to the board, but told the supervisors they do not need to discuss him in secret. (Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen wondered if discussion of commission and committee appointment should be held in closed session.)

"The name of Al Lerch never needs to be discussed in secret executive sessions," Lerch wrote.

"My record in service to the public for the past 15 years and my personal life can always be discussed in open public sessions for all to hear . . . Unless of course, the board is concerned about adhering to cowardice in public opinion that defames prior to investigation.

"Only in secret sessions can the board dull the shine on the crown of another without revealing its failure to elevate to a higher threshold of wisdom through direct discussion with the person involved."

Lerch made his resignation from the housing authority effective tomorrow. The board is expected to act on the resignation Tuesday.

Raymond Burr Off To Visit Troops

Burr, who undertook the trip at the request of the Defense and State Departments, also will visit Japan, Korea and Thailand.

Junior College Aid Proposal Is Killed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — It's a good idea, but there's no money, an Assembly committee in effect has told a legislator unsuccessfully urging a $15 million boost in state aid to junior colleges.

On a 12-5 vote, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee refused yesterday to approve the bill by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus, D-Reedley, a junior college teacher in private life.

About 6 per cent of Italy's electric energy is produced by volcanic heat.

Public Schools Week Ending With Concert

Public Schools Week, which has been observed with open house, exhibits and demonstrations throughout Marin this week, will close with a band concert tonight and a creative arts display tomorrow.

There will be a spring band concert at Davidson Junior High School, San Rafael, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. today, the only observance on the calendar this evening.

Redwood High School will have a creative arts display from noon to 8 p.m. tomorrow, the final event of the week.

Sacramento means the (Holy) Sacrament. The river from which the capital derives its name was christened "Jesus Maria" by Capt. Moraga, while the branch was called Sacramento. Later this name was applied to the main stream.

Paratroopers Added To Dominican Force

Santo Domingo where at least 400 Dominicans have been killed and 1,200 wounded since Saturday.

No Americans have been wounded so far, but the State Department announcement said "U. S. and other nationals who remain in the city are in the most serious danger."

America's use of troops to protect its citizens drew alarmed protests from political leaders in a number of Latin American countries. The Organization of American States called new - world foreign ministers to a meeting in Washington tomorrow to consider the situation.

The first American clash with the rebels occurred yesterday, when Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy killed at least two and perhaps four of a band of snipers who were shooting at the embassy. Loyal Dominican troops in the area killed three more of the snipers.

At least five Latin American embassies here also came under attack, with unannounced results.

The paratroopers, two battalions of the Army's 82nd Airborne Division, landed at San Isidro Airbase outside Santo Domingo. San Isidro, the headquarters of loyalist forces led by aic force Brig. Gen. elias Wessin y Wessin, is the only operational airfield in the area.

The Marines began landing Wednesday from a naval task force led by the helicopter carrier Boxer which was sent in to provide transportation for American and other foreign civilians who wanted to leave the country.

More than 1,000 refugees were ferried to Puerto Rico Wednesday, and others continued to leave in diminishing numbers.

Marine fliers brought in food and medical supplies yesterday for loyalist forces. U. S. officials said food and medicines will be made available for civilians as soon as a cease-fire can be arranged.

Savage street fighting was reported in downtown Santo Domingo yesterday and last night, but the area around the U.S. Embassy was quiet after the brush with the snipers.

Wessin's loyalists, including air and naval units as well as a substantial part of the army, were fighting rebel troops and armed civilians, some of them teen-agers, who are seeking to restore ousted ex-President Juan Bosch to power.

Phone Call May Save Woman's Life

A telephone call from San Bernardino to Sausalito police early today may have saved the life of the estranged wife of Sausalito restaurateur Richard Blacow.

Mrs. Winifred Blacow, 37, was in "poor condition" today at Marin General Hospital after having apparently taken an overdose of sedatives.

Mrs. Blacow's sister, Evelyn Rish of San Bernardino, telephoned police at 6:15 a.m. today, saying she had been unable to reach her sister by phone. She said her sister had been having marital troubles and had recently separated from her husband, who owns Rico's at 1219 Bridgeway.

Police Officer Tom Cain went to Mrs. Blacow's home at 183 Santa Rosa Avenue where he found her unconscious on the floor of her bedroom. He called Marin Ambulance. An empty bottle of nembutal pills was found in the house.

Court Upholds Contempt Ruling

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today unanimously upheld the civil contempt conviction of Salvatore (Bill) Bonanno, son of missing Cosa Nostra figure Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno.

Salvatore was held in contempt March 2 for refusing to answer questions before a federal grand jury investigating his father's disappearance. He was sentenced to prison until he purges himself of the contempt.

School Librarian Has Heart Attack

John J. Gallas of Sausalito, supervising librarian of Novato Elementary Schools, must remain in a Reno Hospital until mid-May before he can be transferred to the Bay Area following a heart attack he suffered last week while on vacation at Lake Tahoe.

Rusk Reports Aspects Of Red Movement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the bloody Dominican Republic rebellion may have "some aspects of a Communist movement" but he does not view it as a "second Communist front."

Rusk made the statements in a Capitol corridor press conference shortly after he and other key advisers discussed the Dominican Republic situation with President Johnson.

Asked by newsmen whether he knew of any relationship between the Dominican Republic revolt and the conflict in Viet Nam, Rusk said "I don't think so." But he added that "there may be some aspects of a Communist movement" involved.

Presidential press secretary George E. Reedy would not go into the concern that the possibility of a Communist take-over in the Caribbean nation was a major reason for the gathering of key advisers at the White House.

He stood pat on a presidential statement Wednesday night that the purpose of sending American troops into the Dominican Republic was to protect American lives.

At the United Nations, the U.S. landing in the Dominican Republic aroused criticism and bitter memories among Latin Americans today. "They'll be stoning U.S. embassies all over," said one Latin-American diplomat at the United Nations.

President Raul Leoni of Venezuela, in telegrams to President Arturo Illia of Argentina and Eduardo Frei of Chile, was reported to have termed the U.S. action an "invasion" and a "violation of the treaties of the Organization of American States."

Frei replied that he agreed completely.

Angel Zavala Ortiz, Argentine foreign minister, said he wouldn't pass judgment on the American action — "the Organization of American States must do that."

"Perhaps the United States had reason in this occasion to intervene in the Dominican Republic with the purpose of protecting its citizens," he said.

Post Office Dispute End Is Expected

A dispute between landowners and the federal government has held up construction of a new Kentfield Post Office several weeks, but government officials said today they expected the problem to be resolved by tomorrow.

Regional real estate officer Lawrence Guay said the disagreement concerned who would pay an extra $1,500 cost for fireproofing the eaves hanging over the west wall of the building, as required by the county building department.

W. E. Patton, speaking for the owner of the property at 830 College Avenue, said his firm did not intend to pay. He said yesterday that the project may be called off if the government will not pay the extra cost.

Patton, working for Sequoia Realty Co., Mill Valley, is responsible for the construction. The building will be leased by the government.

The fireproofing was required on the west side of the building because the eaves extend two feet into a sideyard, Guay explained. He said that to prevent a fire from jumping to a building next door, the county asked that the eaves be built of steel covered with plaster, rather than wood.

Marin Tars Legal Again On Campus

The Marin Tars are legal again on the College of Marin campus.

The organization's charter was lifted last week by the student body executive council after a charge the organization was hazing new members, a practice prohibited by state law.

At yesterday's meeting, organization leaders asked the council to reconsider, on grounds adequate notice of the last action had not been given beforehand.

The council agreed unanimously.

A motion to cancel the Tars' failed, 7-6, with three members abstaining.

However, Student body president Rento Sottile said after the meeting that new Tar members were not expected to be seen on campus carrying gold-painted bricks any longer, nor to be volunteering to sweep the cafeteria.

Tree-Planting Blocks Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's First Lady helped plant a 20-foot red oak today, and the Arbor Day ceremony blocked off a key downtown street for two hours during the morning rush hour.

District of Columbia police had roped off 14th Street, between Pennsylvania Avenue and E Street, to provide seats and sstanding room for several hundred spectators.

The tree-planting in front of the famous Willard Hotel, facing a downtown park area recently planted with beds of tulips and azaleas, was part of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's efforts to beautify the capital.

Directors chose Brown as having made the greatest contribution to the association during the year as national membership chairman. In 15 months under his chairmanship, membership increased from 500 newspapers to 666, spread over the United States and Canada.

Welfare Aide Expects Funds Ready Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. welfare administration said today it expects to be able to supply federal welfare grant funds to all states in time for them to mail out next month's public assistance checks on schedule.

The office expressed confidence that President Johnson will sign quickly a supplemental appropriations bill which contains funds for these and other purposes. Congress completed action on the bill yesterday.

Because of the urgency of the situation in some states, such as Arizona, the office is prepared to telegraph the federal money, a spokesman said.

Arizona needs $654,000 of federal money today in order to meet its regular schedule for mailing out old age assistance checks totaling $850,000 to 3,000 persons.

Bank Robbery Ends In Death

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — One man was killed and two others wounded today when police broke up an attempted bank robbery of a branch office.

FBI agents and city police swarmed over the First National Bank branch and recovered part of the money from the dead gunman and the other wounded gunman.

A third bandit fled.

Wild Flower Show Starts Tomorrow

The Stinson Beach "wild flower girls" returned yesterday after touring a total of 4,100 miles through California in search of flowers for the eighth annual show to be held this week end at the community center.

A bladdernut was one of the plants they brought back, found at Shaver Lake near Fresno. A shrub, it will be included in a foliage, conifer and cone display, the first such display in the history of the show. "It's not common," said Mrs. Barbara Menzies.

Mrs. Menzies is one of the three collectors who started the show. The others are Mrs. Roberta Shockey and Mrs. Anne Leary.

Show hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, with tea being served from 1 to 4 p.m. both days.

Vocational Committee Hears Duty

Twenty-one members of the Marin Vocational Education Study resources Committee met at the Civic Center last night to learn their functions in a report on the need for a vocational high school in the county.

Robert Ingraham of the education consulting firm of Odell, MacConnell Associates told the group that information has been gathered from superintendent, counselors and principals in the county high school on current vocational teaching.

What is needed next is information from the community on the need for vocational teaching. The resource committee will help collect this.

Stanley Friese, assistant county school superintendent in charge of educational services, said there will probably be two more committee meetings this spring.

The $8,600 study is being financed by federal and state funds.

Auto Is Stolen

March Traffic Toll At 388

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's March traffic toll totaled 388, California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford Crittenden announced today.

That was one less than in March, 1964, Crittenden said. It brought traffic deaths for the first three months of the year to 1,061, up 47 per cent from the first quarter of last year.

It amounted to an average of 12.52 persons dying as a result of traffic accidents each day, Crittenden said.

The driver, Peter G. Llerena Jr., 21, from the same ship, suffered body scrapes and was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital. Fernando was transferred to Letterman General Hospital in the Presidio, of San Francisco.

The Llerena car was headed north of Highway 101, near San Marin, when it went off the road, into an eight-foot ditch and hit a utility pole, highway patrolmen reported.

Proposed Fire Budget Up $73,861 For Novato Area

A preliminary budget of $415,101 for Novato Fire District for the 1966 fiscal year, $73,861 more than this year, has been submitted to the fire district board, Fire Chief George Cavallero said today.

The increase reflects the additional cost of operating the San Marin Fire Station No. 3, Cavallero said.

The proposed budget calls for $245,130 for salaries, against $207,738 this year. It has $36,071 for maintenance compared to $31,597 this year, and $134,100 for capital outlay compared to $102,105 this year.

The current tax rate for the fire district is 71 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The proposed budget does not make any estimate of tax rate, Cavallero said.

Hub Group Names 'Pioneer Citizen'

Real estate man Thomas Minto was selected yesterday by the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce board as the city's pioneer citizen," to represent San Anselmo during senior citizen month.

The selection was made after several businessmen rose at the board meeting to tell how Minto, one of the first real estate brokers in the Ross Valley, helped them start their businesses, and helped keep them going during the depression.

Marin Welfare Fund Problem

Marin County was put on notice today that there is a deficiency of money in federal welfare coffers and $50,000 for the federal share of medical care for the aged will be delayed.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said help in paying expenses incurred during April has already been asked from the state.

If this help is not granted, the board of supervisors will be asked to transfer money from reserves to cover the deficiency until the federal payment is made.

Wilson Makes Public Steel Takeover Plan

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson made public today a controversial government plan to take over the nation's steel industry. The move could bring down his Labor government after little more than six months in office.

Wilson presented Parliament with a white paper setting forth the Labor government's intention of nationalizing 14 giant steel corporations which control 90 per cent of Britain's production of iron and steel and employ 70 per cent of the industry's manpower.

The white paper, which is not the actual nationalizing legislation but a statement of intent, will be debated in the House of Commons next Thursday. The government at present has an over-all majority of four votes in Commons.

But two of Wilson's own Laborites, Woodrow Wyatt and Desmond Donnelly, oppose the wholesale nationalization of steel. If they abstain in the voting, the government's majority is reduced to two; if they vote against, it is a dead heat with the nonparty speaker of Commons casting the deciding vote.

If just one Laborite is absent when next Friday's vote is taken in Commons, the government could be defeated on an issue it regards as basic in its Socialist legislative program.

As there is no question of confidence attached to the white paper, an adverse vote on it would not automatically bring the government down.

The white paper said the 14 steel corporations will be nationalized through the transfer of their stock to a government-owned National Steel Corp.

Driver Janet M. Gray, 17, of 290 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, and a passenger in her car, Heidi Lerner, 16, of 225 Tulane Drive, Larkspur, suffered cuts and bruises in a two-car accident at 3:40 p.m. yesterday.

Woodman said, "with increasing resources—technical, marketing, managerial and financial—we can't see how we can fail to increase our average share of the diversified markets we serve."

Speaking about Interchemical's research and development program, he said, "our current expenditures are between $4.5 and 5 million—roughly 2.5 per cent of sales. We have been increasing our R & D budget and we plan to continue to do so."

Blue Chip Strength Pushes Market Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Scattered strength in blue chips enabled an irregular market to close higher today. Trading was moderately active.

Investment buying boosted Sears, Roebuck, Reynolds Tobacco, Union Carbide and others to gains of well over a point. Eastman Kodak was up about 2.

Mental Health Drive Is Opening In Marin

Church bells will ring throughout Marin County at 7 p.m. Monday to signal opening of the second annual countywide drive for $23,000 of the Marin Assn. for Mental Health.

Volunteers will be ringing doorbells in many Marin cities for the cause of mental health during May, Harold Watkin of Kentfield, general chairman said.

Residents who are missed by volunteers have been asked to mail their contributions to the association at 1005 A Street, San Rafael.

Campaign leaders will attend a luncheon at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera Monday, according to Watkin.

"Our association works with other community agencies to influence legislation that will provide facilities for diagnosis and treatment adequate to the needs of our growing population," Dr. William L. Bewley of Tiburon, an association director, said.

"The fact that one in 10 persons in the United States at some time in his life needs help for a mental or emotional illness underscores the critical need for wider understanding of the problem."

A directory of all agencies in the county which provide some form of mental health service is being prepared by the association and will be published soon, he said.

Bold Lad Heads Field In Kentucky Derby Tomorrow

By KELSO STURGEON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — There's no doubt in Bill Winfrey's mind that Bold Lad is the best horse in the Kentucky Derby, but he admits he can't stop worrying about two or three others in the field of 11 that have reputations as strong stretch runners.

"I'm not worried a bit about any speed horses in this race," the veteran trainer said. "Speed, of course, is a big factor in racing but I don't think that a horse like Flag Raiser can win it. He's just not a 1¼-mile horse.

"My concern is with the horses that will be coming from behind," Winfrey said. "I think I'm running the best horse, but . . .

"I feel as good about Bold Lad's chances as I did about Native Dancer's," he said. "The only difference in the two was that Native Dancer already had proven himself at distances up to 1⅛ miles, while Bold Lad never has won at more than one mile.

"But, as I have said before, I don't think the distance factor will make any difference," he said.

This will be Winfrey's first Derby horse since he ran Native Dancer and Social Outcast as an entry in 1953. On that Saturday afternoon 12 years ago Native Dancer was beaten by a head by Dark Star for the only loss of his racing career.

Bold Lad was installed the 8-5 favorite for the 91st running of this historic racing classic at Churchill Downs tomorrow. He will be ridden by Bill Hartack, the most successful jockey in Derby history and the man who has won this race on the last three mounts he's had in it.

With 11 starters, the Derby will have a gross value of $154,500, making it the eighth richest in history.

The winner will pick up a purse of $112,000, while $25,000 will go to the second place finisher. Third place is worth $12,500 and fourth $5,000.

The Saturday forecast calls for fair and warm weather and the track should be lightning fast.

Post time is set for 2:45 p.m. PDT, for the first jewel of the Triple Crown.

The race will be carried on national radio and television (CBS) from 2-3 p.m.

Bold Lad, running under the colors of Mrs. H. C. Phipps Wheatley Stable, is expected to get his main competition from those stretch runners which are on Winfrey's mind.

Tom Rolfe, a bay colt from the Powhatan Stable of Raymond Guest, was listed by the official oddsmaker at Churchill Downs as the second choice at 4-1. Tom Rolfe won the Stepping Stone purse.

The third choice is Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Lucky Debonair at 5-1 while Florida Derby winner Native Charger, owned by Albert Warner, was listed at 8-1.

Another horse from which Winfrey expects trouble is Hail to All, who has been out of the money only twice in 18 starts. This bay colt, owned by Mrs. Ben Cohen, will be handled for the first time by jockey Manual Ycaza. Hail to All is listed at 10-1.

Flag Raiser, a colt with blistering speed who has won three straight stakes races, will open at 10-1. Flag Raiser is owned by Isidor Bieber and ridden by Bob Ussery.

Listed at 15-1 is Ogden Phipps' Dapper Dan, who will be handled by Milo Valenzuela. At 12-1 is Arkansas Derby winner Swift Ruler, owned by Earl Allen and ridden by Larry Spraker.

At 20-1 is Mr. Pac, owned by Mrs. Mary Keim and ridden by Jimmy Nichols. Rounding out the field at 30-1 are John W. Mecom's Narushua and Perne L. Grissom's Carpenter's Rule. Terry Dunlavy will be up on Narushua and Bill Harmatz will ride Carpenter's Rule.

Hartack, who will be going for his second straight, won with Iron Liege in 1957, Venetian Way in 1960, Decidedly in 1962 and Northern Dancer. This will be Hartack's seventh Derby and a victory would tie him with Eddie Arcaro at five winning mounts.

Houston Dome Ain't So Hot

HOUSTON—The first thing to understand about the Houston Astrodome is that it's just a ballpark with a roof on it. This is important because to listen to Texas tell about it, you'd think it was a bridge to Europe.

It seats approximately 45,000 people and they sit there just like any other fans, gulping peanuts, yelling "Charge," stamping their feet to rattle the pitcher—and they go home early when the game is lop-sided. With their home team, it usually is.

It's not the Cheops pyramids, the Colossus at Rhodes. It was built by bulldozers, mechanical hoists, and all the inventive paraphernalia of the 20th century, not barefoot slaves in three generations. As an engineering feat, it probably ranks well below the Holland Tunnel—or even the electric light. Like most of Texas, it owes its existence at all to a lot of hot air. This is the state where they have so much of it, it's even underground. It's a monument to the unlivability of East Texas, is what it is.

HOISTING A roof is a theoretical problem well within the reach of the average Purdue sophomore. But, Texas being Texas, their problem here was keeping it from blowing away before they had it tacked down. They told everybody in town to shut up for a day or two till this was accomplished. There are those who think this was the REAL stunt.

It was the brain-child of one Roy Hofheinz. Two years ago, if you had asked anyone who or what "Hofheinz" was, they would have guessed a restaurant in Milwaukee. Now he's known as a guy who got the county to pony up $32 million just to give people a place to come in out of the rain.

YOU DON'T have to watch the ball game if you don't want to. In fact, the $18,000 boxes which you buy five years at a time are so high up, you can't see the ball game if you want to. There is no evidence anybody does and, to tell the truth, if I had my own butler, Dow Jones ticker, bedroom and Corot paintings, I'd be cussed if I'd want to waste them all watching the hit-and-run play.

Of course, they say that to put up the money Houston just asked the wives to go through their husband's pockets one night and the first thing they knew, they were oversubscribed. Someone else said they just cut into an oil company poker game one night for the $32 million and the dealer said, "OK, just take one of the white chips and go away and don't bother us." The people in the east who buy Texas' principal export—natural gas—are paying for it.

IT HAS, of course, changed the social customs a good bit. The cat in the slick mustache who used to invite the young lady up to see his etchings, now invites her up to watch a real squeeze play.

To be fair to Texas (which is otherwise a kind of waste of time), the roof on the ball park is not exactly a roof in the sense of the one on your house. What it would do is cover most of Rhode Island — which is not a bad idea, either. It's the function of all this technical excellence that makes you worry. I mean, erecting a $32 million edifice just for the Mets and the Houston Astros is a little like buying a Rolls Royce just to take the sheep to market.

THE SCOREBOARD, for instance, costs as much as a good-sized hospital. But all it does is keep balls and strikes, the number of outs and the player at bat. When a home run is hit—and by the way, don't hold your breath, it's like all Texas, too big and too brass for many of them—the scoreboard explodes into an electronic form of the DT's. Cowboys rope steers in moving color lights, the flag of Texas, the United States and, probably, Albania wave before your eyes. The home run scoreboard show is so long, Charlie Maher says, it should have an intermission. Fortunately, home runs are no drain at all on the electric bill.

IF ALL this sounds as if I don't like it, shame on you. It's just that I'm constantly surprised that so much of our gross national product goes into gross national pastime. An edifice this magnificent which defies man and nature deserves something better than a succession of sacrifice bunts and 3-and-2 counts. It took Babe Ruth to justify the Yankee Stadium. The night I was there, Houston had to settle for Eddie Kasko.

Palmer Back In Groove

By BOB MYERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Arnold Palmer led the way into the second round of the $75,000 Tournament of Champions today, and to the dismay of his admirers, two-time winner Jack Nicklaus was eight long strokes back.

But as a well - known sage from West Virginia — golfer name of Sam Snead—predicted: "When the curtain comes down, Nicklaus will be there—with his hand out."

The 52-year-old Snead, sitting in the press tent, reflected a moment, looked out at what he calls "those flippity - wristed kids" on the practice tee, and continued:

"Maybe Nicklaus had a bad night the night before, maybe the colic. He putts too good and hits too good. He'll be around at the finish."

Colic or whatever, Nicklaus had a first round 74 and got only one birdie, and that belatedly at the 15th hole.

And Palmer, meanwhile, escaped the putting miseries that have baffled him for a year and shot a six under par 66.

Sunny weather—it was a high 90 yesterday—was promised as the field of 26 resumed play over the 7,209-yard, par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Two strokes back of Palmer were Snead, who had only one disastrous hole; Bill Casper Jr. and young Dick Sikes.

Giants, Dodgers Still Hot Foes

By ALEX KAHN

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Almost all the faces are different, their home bases have shifted to Los Angeles and San Francisco but the same keen rivalry exists today between the Dodgers and the Giants as it did when they were in Brooklyn and New York.

The clubs met for the first time in 1965 last night and the hard-fought contest ended in a 2-1 victory for the Dodgers featured by winning pitcher Don Drysdale sending Willie Mays sprawling twice by brushing him away from the plate.

And the Giants retaliated when Bob Bolin, in relief of starter Juan Marichal, hit Drysdale with a pitched ball in the eighth inning.

But the new editions of the Giants and Dodgers didn't pour from the dugouts as they might have done at the Polo Grounds or Ebbets Field in an earlier cay. They accepted the brush-back pitches as part of the hard-fought competition between the clubs.

But basically the game was a pitching battle between two of the top righthanders in baseball today. And Drysdale at least for this time proved himself the master of Marichal in their first meeting since late in the 1963 season.

Last year Drysdale was the only Dodger to enjoy any success against the Giants, winning four games against one loss. And he got off to a winning start last night thanks to the clutch hitting of Tommy Davis who broke out of an early-season batting slump.

Davis drove in both of the Dodgers' runs. The left fielder

Rosewall Launches U.S. Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Australia's Ken Rosewall and Rod Laver, the top seeded players, swinging into action tonight completing the quarter-final round of the U.S. indoor professional tennis championship.

Rosewall, recently named touring pro for Peacock Gap in San Rafael, Calif., and seeded first in the singles which provides a $3,000 prize to the winner, will face Luis Ayala of Chile, winner last night over Sam Giammalva of Houston, the Rice University coach, 6-0, 4-6, 6-3.

Laver, seeded second, takes on Earl (Butch) Buchholz, former U.S. Davis Cupper who advanced Wednesday night.

The winner of the Laver-Buchholz match then plays Spain's Andres Gimeno in Saturday night's semifinals while the Rosewall-Ayala survivor will play Pancho Gonzales, the happy defender, who advanced last night.

Gonzales needed only 48 minutes to eliminate 44-year-old Pancho Segura, the transplanted South American, 6-2, 6-4. Pancho said he was feeling better than he has in a long time.

NOVATAN UNVEILS HIS NEW INDY '500' RACER

San Francisco millionaire sportsman Kjell Qvale is aiming for victory in this year's Indianapolis 500-mile race with three cars that he figures will qualify at speeds in excess of 160 miles an hour.

Each of the three rear-engine Offenhauser powered racing cars is equipped with the liquid suspension system developed for the MG British motor car and a rubber gasoline tank designed by Firestone calculated to allow the use of up to 108 extra horsepower on turns.

The cars will represent three Pific Coast cities. Walter Hansgen will drive "Miss San Francisco," unveiled in San Francisco yesterday; Bob Veith "Miss Los Angeles" and Jerry Grant the "Bardahl MG-Special representing Seattle, Wash.

"The big advantage of the new suspension and the gas tank in traffic racing," Joe Huffaker of Novato, designer and builder of the car, said, is that it will allow leaving the groove for the second or third lanes out from the turn at high speeds without any danger of over correction. The only disadvantage is that the drivers must become more attuned to the car than usual. The racer runs so quietly that there is such little sensation of speed that it is possible to overrun the turns."

The new gas tank has a two-fold function. Housed in an aluminum tank, it is a rubber bag filled with foam which presses against the liquid fuel allowing no air to enter.

The prevent san explosion or fire in case of an accident. But more than that, it prevents the sloshing of the 70 gallons of fuel from side to side. This helps to stabilize the narrow 98 - inch wheel base car.

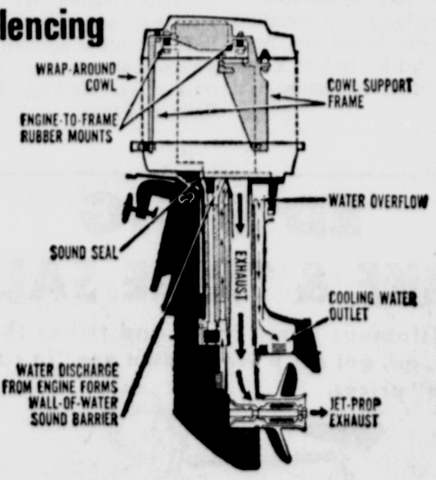
Merc's sound-engineered quiet with the "fat-padding" method of silencing



The new 4- and 6-cylinder Mercs are 50% quieter. The sound is engineered out, not padded in. Fat-padding would have ruined Merc's slim, trim silhouette. Merc's silencing came, primarily, from two new principles:

• A wall of engine cooling water surrounds Merc's new internal exhaust pipe and prevents noise from escaping through the sides of the drive shaft housing. This wall-of-water also damps out mechanical vibration. Unlike ordinary outboards, which pay for noise reduction by sacrificing power, Merc's new silencing system actually boosts power to the prop.

• Mercs have a new, non-broadcasting cowling that is isolated from the vibrating powerhead by large, soft-rubber mounts. The cowling actually "floats" around the powerhead. All openings for controls are sealed with neoprene to insure that sound is trapped inside the cowling.

Dyna-Float, aircraft-type suspension . . . an elastically isolated steering arm . . . offset wrist pins . . . small-bore, short-stroke design . . . and exclusive Jet-Prop exhaust are just a few more of the reasons why Mercs are 50% quieter.

Make the sound comparison yourself. Drop by your Mercury dealer today . . . he's got it on the record. He can also give you more reasons why you get more RUN for your money with Mercury . . . 100, 90, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8, 6 and 3.9 hp.

MURAKAMI MAY PITCH FOR S.F. NEXT WEEK

TOKYO (AP) — A scout for the San Francisco Giants said Friday that pitcher Masanori Murakami — whose status threatened the existence of U.S.-Japan baseball relations — will leave Tuesday to rejoin the Giants.

The report came a day after the Giants received a cable from Japanese Baseball Comissioner Yushi Uchimura saying he would try to get the 21-year-old southpaw to the United States "as soon as possible."

Tsuneo (Cappy) Harada, the Giants' scout in Japan, told The Associated Press Murakami was contacted today and he was booked to leave by plane Tuesday.

"I'm glad the matter has settled," Harada said, referring to the four-month ownership tug-of-war between the Giants and Japan's Nankai Hawks involving Murakami.

MASANORI MURAKAMI
A Giant again

Murakami last year became the first Japanese to pitch in the U.S. major leagues when he appeared for the Giants. At the end of the season he signed a $10,000 contract to rejoin the Giants for the 1965 season.

But on return to Tokyo, Japan's Nankai Hawks claimed Murakami was their property, rejecting the Giants' contract and claimed the $10,000 dollars was a bonus paid for use of the Japanese player.

The controversy was resolved after the Giants agreed — reluctantly — to a demand from the Hawks that Murakami be freed to decide at the end of the 1965 season whether he wants to continue playing with the National League team.

Harada said Murakami has been practicing with the Hawks and is "in very, very good condition." The scout said he believes the pitcher can take the mount for the Giants by the end of the next week.

Drinks For Ace? Phooey

AVON, Conn. (AP)—Traditionally, a golfer who shoots a hole-in-one buys the drinks afterwards.

But Ev Hanlon doesn't like the tradition and he's fighting it.

Hanlon, an amateur golfer, scored his third hole-in-one Wednesday on the Avon Golf Club's 170-yard, par 3, 11th hole.

Instead of buying drinks he wrote a letter to the U.S. Golf Association.

"I've disliked the idea of a hole-in-one shooter buying for years. I experienced it twice before and told myself then that were I ever to get another, my first step wouldn't be a trip to the bar, but rather, a letter to the U.S.G.A.," he said yesterday.

"I want it understood that it is the principle, and not the money involved, certainly not over refreshments," he said.

Hanlon asked the U.S.G.A. to rule on whether his hole-in-one can be called an "unplayable lie, thereby, in all probability, setting up a 3 via a short putt."

"And, with me it's a 3," he told everyone within earshot.

"A rule reads a ball can be declared unplayable anywhere on a golf course," Hanlon explained. "If so, why not in the hole"

About his letter, Hanlon said: "I'm of the opinion many golfers at thousands of clubs would like the idea of taking a 3 rather than a hole-in-one, and if my attention to this and a possible ruling will help, well, I'm willing to break the ice."

"I've been waiting a long time for someone to take this step, but now I'm in a position to do it myself."

PREP SWIM CHAMPIONSHIPS

Bulldog Mermen Favored

The top prep swimmers in Marin County will be at the same pool tomorrow when the Marin Athletic League championship meet swings into high gear.

It will be held in the Tamalpais High School tank in Mill Valley with the pool-less men from Redwood hosting the affair. The all-day meet starts at 9:30 a.m., with the top six finishers in each event qualifying for the North Coast Division III meet the following weekend, in the same pool.

Dual meet champion San Rafael High's crack team has the favorite role, but because the team lacks depth in a few spots, the Bulldogs should get strong competition from the Terra Linda and Drake teams.

There will be some fierce competition in many of the events. In the 100-yard butterfly, Tom Knopf of San Rafael, George Girvin of Drake and Mike Cass of Terra Linda will battle it out. Girvin was second in the North Coast Section meet last year and Knopf was sixth.

Then in the 50-free, Girvin, Dave Strauss of San Rafael and Don Kreuzberger of Redwood top the list. Six men all have a good chance in the 100-yard breaststroke event, Tim Frost and Wally Nagel of Redwood, Chet Carlisle and John Skaer of Drake, and Bill Pandiani and George Jones of San Rafael.

The 100-yard backstroke should be a two-man battle between Dennis Good of Tam and Pete Cowger of Terra Linda. San Rafael star Jim Allen should win the 100 and 200-yard freestyle events. Steve Donaldson of Tam may be another two-time winner, in the 400 free and 200-yard individual medley.

Tam and San Rafael will battle it out in the medley relay, and Terra Linda and San Rafael are favored in the freestyle relay. Tam and Terra Linda are expected to dominate the diving, Steve Hewett and Bob Bangs of Tam and Bob Keller and Mike Smith of Terra Linda.

Terra Linda is a slight favorite in the Class D portion of the meet, with the lightweights of San Rafael, Drake and Tam pushing the Trojans.

Among the Class B stars performing will be Ben Edmonds of Drake in the 200 free and 50-yard butterfly, Bob Girvin of Drake in the individual medley and 100-yard backstroke, Paul Sagues of Drake in the 50 and 100 free, and Jim Morris of San Rafael in the 100 breast.

Canadian Jockey Excited: His First Kentucky Race

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ron Turcotte, a native of New Brunswick, Canada, is looking forward to his first Kentucky Derby ride with all the eagerness of youth.

The curly-haired 24-year-old, who actually looks younger, will be aboard the highly regarded Tom Rolfe Saturday—a colt he likes to compare with Northern Dancer, Canadian win er of the 1964 Derby in record time of 2:00 for the 1¼ miles.

"Tom Rolfe is a small horse, as you can see," said Turcotte. "He always gives his best. Northern Dancer, also on the small side, was the same type of runner."

Turcotte rode Northern Dancer five times as a 2-year-old and won four races with the great little Canadian thoroughbred.

Around the stables, Turcotte is known as a working jockey. He's at the barn every morning doing anything from cleaning stalls to grazing Tom Rolfe.

"There is one thing, however, I don't like and that is walking a horse to cool him out," said the likeable rider. "I would much rather be on his back."

Jimmy Conway, veteran trainer for the Darby Dan Farm, was one who pointed out Turcotte's desire to learn everything possible about his mount. Ronnie impresses trainers with his ability to rate a horse and then turn him loose at the right moment. That is the way Tom Rolfe runs best.

Turcotte almost didn't become a jockey.

"For five years I worked as a lumberjack in Canada," he said. "I was light for the heavy work." Then he weighed 120 pounds. Today he can make 112 pounds.

Turcotte, one of 14 children and the son of a lumberjack, thinks being a jockey is the easiest job he ever had.

When he left a logging camp to seek a better job in Toronto, he had no idea of becoming a jockey.

"I was just looking for work," he said. He found it with E. P. Taylor, owner of Northern Dancer, and it wasn't long before he proved a natural.

His first victory was recorded at Fort Erie in 1962 and since then he has been among the top jockeys. Should he win tomorrow with Tom Rolfe, he would be the second Canadian jockey to capture America's No. 1 horse race. Johnny Longden, at 57 the patriarch of riders, won with Count fleet in 1943.

BOYCOTT ON IN MILWAUKEE

Braves Get The Cold Shoulder

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The thaw finally has set in at Milwaukee and as expected the attendance soared.

As a matter of fact, it almost doubled — to 2,182.

Despite mild, 67-degree weather, the fans continued to apply the cold shoulder treatment last night as the Atlanta-bound Braves defeated the world champion St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

"This isn't baseball weather," has been the cry of Braves' officials during a cold wave that had attendance plunging as low as a topless bathing suit. But, unofficial as it is, there seems little doubt that there will be a fan boycott of the Braves this season.

Attendance for the entire three-game set against the world champions totaled 5,183. And in their last six games the Braves haven't drawn enough to fill County Stadium once, with only 14,740 paying customers.

Meanwhile, the players, who have been under strict orders not to discuss the situation, have remained mum publicly. But privately many expressed surprise yesterday at seeing the small crowd dotting the stands in good weather.

In other games, Don Drysdale outdueled Juan Marichal in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 2-1 victory over San Francisco, the Chicago Cubs whipped Cincinnati 6-3 and Baltimore edged Washington 5-4. All t oher clubs were idle.

Hank Aaron hit his first homer for the Braves in the eighth inning but they already had put the game away in the fifth inning when a throwing error by Curt Flood and a wild pitch by Curt Simmons led to two runs.

Pitcher Bob Sadowski got the Braves started in the fifth with a single, raced to third on Felipe Alou's single and then headed home when Flood's throw-in bounced into the dugout. Alou proceeded to third, scoring when Simmons uncorked a wild pitch.

Sadowski, forced to retire when he injured his knee sliding into third, allowed only two hits before he left. Billy O'Dell finished up a four-hitter.

The Cubs got the job done with a four-run sixth inning uprising that broke up a scoreless duel between Cal Koonce and the Reds' Jim O'Toole.

Billy Williams opened the sixth with a double and Ron Santo followed with a single. Pete Rose then dropped a throw on Ernie Banks' grounder, allowing Williams to score. A walk loaded the bases before Koonce singled one run home and Glenn Beckert singled in two more.

Frank Robinson ruined Koonce's shutout bid with a three-run homer in the eighth.

Trailing 4-3, the Orioles won it in the eighth when Brooks Robinson stroked a two-out single and Norm Siebern crashed his first homer of the season.

The winning blow came off Phil Ortega, who drew an automatic $50 fine in the fifth inning for throwing at Johnny Orsino. Orsino had homered in his previous at-bat. Woodie Held hit two solo homers for the Senators.

GIANTS, DODGERS

Hendley-Koufax Battle Tonight

said he hadn't been particularly successful against Marichal in the past and hoped he finally had settled into a hitting groove.

"I thought I pitched better than I had at any time since the start of the season," Drysdale commented. "you have to be lucky to beat Marichal. I felt great and my pitches were going where I wanted."

Drysdale said he was certain that Bolin did not hit him intentionally because it would have been a foolish move to put him on base while only one run behind.

"The Giants just retaliated for my brushing Mays back twice. I don't blame them for throwing close to me. That's the way I play baseball and I know manager Herman Franks of the Giants wants to play it the same way."

Franks agreed that the brushback pitches were part of the game and he bore Drysdale no particular animosity for employing them.

"Throwing close to a man is part of the game," he said. "We played well enough to win but we didn't."

The Giants' manager said he regretfully sent in a pinchhitter for Marichal in the seventh inning because his club was behind and needed a run.

"I know Marichal was disappointed when I lifted him, but we had to try to score a run," he added.

Drysdale's old nemesis, Willie McCovey, scored the only Giants run in the second. Drysdale, pitching cautiously to the lanky first baseman, walked him and then Jim Hart collected the first of his three singles off Drysdale to advance McCovey to third. Jose Pagan's single off third baseman Dick Tracewski's glove scored the run.

The Dodgers tied the score in the fourth when Wes Parker singled for the second time and scored on Tommy davis's triple that was almost turned into an inside-the-park homer.

"If I had run us hard from third to the plate as I did getting to third I think I could have scored," the slugger said.

The winning run was scored in the sixth by Maury Wills who singled, was sacrificed to second by Parker and stole third. Then Tommy Davis singled him home.

Drysdale in collecting his third win allowed but four hits and struck out five men. Marichal in six innings gave up five hits and fanned four.

Ken Andrews Is CYO Track Star

Ken Andrews won the eighth-grade 75-yard dash, broad jump, high jump, and was anchor man on the winning relay team to lead the youngsters from St. Raphael's Parish in a track and field meet last Sunday at San Rafael High School.

Other winners were:

Terra Linda JVs Defeat Novatans

Tom Nelson and Steve Congdon each drove in a run and pitcher Gary Webb went the distance on the mound as the Terra Linda High School junior varsity baseballers nipped Novato 2-1 Wednesday afternoon.

MARIN HURLER GETS SECOND STRAIGHT WIN

Steve Miller, the fast-balling righthander from San Anselmo who is playing his first year of pro ball for Coco Beach, Fla., did it again.

He threw his second straight one-hitter Wednesday night and posted another shutout, this time against Orlando. He struck out 10, walked one, and hit one batter.

So in his first 18 innings of pitching in the Florida State League, Miller has allowed a total of two hits and has an earned run average of 0.00. The team has won three games and the former Drake star has received credit for 67 per cent of them.

San Rafael Track Meet Tomorrow

The San Rafael Recreation Department's Easter Relays, postponed by wet weather, will be held tomorrow, beginning at 9 a.m., on the San Rafael High School field.

The track and field meet is open to all elementary and junior high school boys and girls living within the San Rafael High School District. Individual awards will be presented at the end of each event, with team awards presented at the conclusion of the meet.

Competition will be in 25, 50, 60 and 75-yard dashes, 220-yard relays, and field events including softball throw and broad jump, both running and standing.

Marin Golf Club Defeats Presidio

Mesdames Edward Abramson and E. N. Dawson fired a best ball of 63 to lead Marin Golf Club to a victory over Presidio Club yesterday in their home and home golf series. Marin tallied 42½ points to Presidio's 11½.

Black Hawks Tie Up NHL Playoffs

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks and their latest hero, defenseman Moose Vasko, will try to turn in a repeat performance of their semifinal series and win the Stanley Cup in Montreal Saturday night.

The Hawks, who have been rebounding ever since the playoffs began a month ago, did it again last night when they scored a pair of goals in the final period for a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens.

Vasko, who had scored only one goal during the regular season, came up with his first playoff goal since 1961 at 6:06 of the final period to tie the game.

A couple of minutes later, Doug Mohns scored on a power play and the Hawks held on for their third triumph against three losses in the best-of-7 series.

Neither team as yet has been able to win away from home, giving the Canadiens a decided advantage in the final game. But the Hawks are taking heart in the fact that the semifinal series went the same way until they scored the clincher in Detroit in the seventh game.

"It's anybody's series now," said General Manager Tommy Ivan of the Hawks. "Sure they'll be favored on their home ice but so was Detroit and we won. When you get down to the seventh game for the Cup, anyone can win it."

Chicago Coach Billy Reay had high praise for Vasko, Pierre Pilote and goalie Glenn Hall. Vasko's tying goal, Pilote's inspirational play and Hall's late save added to the victory.

ity. It was found that the outfielders couldn't catch any kind of a hit ball. Then they painted the roof and they found out it wasn't the glare after all, it was the outfielders.

The grass is the problem now. The infield looks like a guy with a scalp disease. It gets harder and harder to grow grass in Texas since the great steer herds began to disappear and take the state's second largest product with them—and I don't mean meat. But the Dome is going to have to import artificial grass, which one non-Texas writer suggested might make it look like the world's biggest Easter basket and, if the ball game got dull (which never happens at least till the first pitch) they could always change over to an egg roll.

THE AIR-conditioning unit weighs roughly what the Empire State Buildings does, I gather, and the guy at the console is expected to keep the temperature at 74. I give this very short shift because, I don't know whether you know it or not, but the hit-and-run play is not nearly so important to besaball as the concessions. At 74 degrees, it's neither too hot for coffee nor cold enough for beer. If I'm betting, a study of the sales graphs will have the management dropping around the refrigerant room regularly with the casual aside, "Oh, by the way, Professor, beer isn't moving. Can you just boost the dial up to—oh, say 110? Just for tonight?" On the days when the coffee and hot dogs aren't moving, we can expect a blue norther to hit—courtesy of centrifugal refrigeration, not a weather front from Alaska.

Well, that's about all I can tell you about Texas's newest bauble except that the dugouts are so long that a phone call to change pitchers is a toll charge. Everyone in Texas wanted to be able to say he "sat behind the dugout" so they made them so big there's room for Louisianans, too.

IT'S ONE of the few round structures in Texas, which is a community more noted for its sharp-edged dimensions. And old Casey Stengel, who grew up in an age when the only air-conditioning in his part of the country was provided by tornadoes, was moved to note that "this here is the kind of building where, from the outside, you can't tell where first base is." This was a drawback nobody else ever thought of before—but the air-conditioning pleased Case.

"When I played down in the Southern League," he recalled, "it was the bugs—and bugs are something which can't stand air-conditioning and maybe they know something—anyways, we would put these here newspapers in our socks so's the bugs couldn't bite through them—but they, don't you see, you'd commence perspiring and the newspapers would get so heavy, pretty soon you couldn't walk and sometimes the other people would reverse the score on you the way they done to me here tonight where they'll do a lot of bunting.

"AND ANYWAYS, with the air-conditioning and all, that can't happen here and none of my players is slow because of wet newspapers but because somebody made them that way in the first place."

Judge Hofheinz and Texas may have had a good idea, after all. But it took Casey to go to the heart of the matter.

Tam Golfers Lead Marin Prep League

Coach Paul Wata's Tamalpais High golf team took over undisputed first place in the Marin Athletic League standings yesterday by handing the Redwood Giants their first loss, 4 to 2, at Mill Valley.

The win was Tam's third without a loss, and one tie, while Redwood dropped to second place with its 4-1 record.

Rick Paterson led the Indians yesterday by shooting two-over-par 35 to defeat Redwood ace Mike Kelly, 1 up.

BEAT SAN RAFAEL

On Wednesday the Indians started their drive toward the top with a 4½-1½ victory over San Rafael with Rick Paterson again winning medalist honors with his 34, also at Mill Valley.

Results of the Tam-San Rafael match: Rick Paterson (T) d. Bob Ramsey (SR) 4 and 3; Shelhart (T) d. Bill Davenport (SR), 3 and 2; Kneib (T) tied Don Hawken (SR); Bob Paterson (T) d. Jim May (SR), 3 and 2; Bill McGrath (SR) d. Yates (T), 3 and 2; Stuurmans (T) d. Jim Kilgore (SR), 4 and 3.

Did You Carefully Check Gear, Buy Stamps For Trout Opener?

STEVENS

So—you're all set to shove off for that favorite spot of yours either tonight or in the wee small hours of tomorrow. I hope you've not forgotten to get that "Trout-fishing stamp" to past on your 1965 angling license, and that you went over you gear carefully—tested your fly line, inspected the guides on your rod; that you have an extra set of "longies" and rain clothes in your pack. Also I hope you have or will get a supply of salmon eggs (both blond and red), a can of educated worms and flies and spinners and rolls of leader material, etc.

Just in case you have yet to pick the water you will fish, generally speaking most of the high country (above 5,000 feet) is not recommended. But the reports rather favor Dwinell Reservoir which is not far from the town of Weed, as well as Orr Lake and the recently dedicated Juanita Lake (about eight miles west of the small town of Macdoel). Prospects are very promising at Juanita Lake as it has been heavily stocked with Rainbows. There is a good gravelled access road to Juanita Lake, restrooms, and roughed out camping sites, no barbecue pits at present, but they will be installed later in the season. Incidentally, all motor powered boats are banned by county ordinance.

WHEREAS THE trout season in Del Norte and Humboldt counties will not open until May 29, Ruth Lake in Trinity County and Lake Pillsbury in Lake County will open tomorrow.

The over-all picture of most all waters in Northern California is rather sad—heavy rains following the floods have dimmed prospects in most waters, with the exception of the areas mentioned above.

In the Modoc-Lassen area chances are that the heavy snows starting to melt limit productive trouting to Eagle Lake, Ash and Rush creeks and the lower Susan River. Better consult the 1965 Sport Fishing Regulations for closures in this region.

I noted from a Fish and Game release that two of my favorite PG&E lakes near Shingletown (34 miles east of Redding), Grace and Nora lakes, are expected to be prime for the opening.

For the lad or lassie who would work more local waters, good trout fishing is predicted for North and South Lake Merced in San Francisco, Lake Berryessa in Napa County, Coyote Reservoir in Santa Clara County and Lake Mendocino in Mendocino County. Also the Marin County lakes and the Alameda Creek should provide some fair to excellent fishing.

FOR THE striper strivers the word from the back country is at least fair, provided, of course that the gusty north wind which hampered the Rio Vista Bass Derby on Sunday doesn't take over. Ben Shintaku of 60 Main Bait Shop at Isleton reported top bass in the derby was a 30-pounder. Rather poor results prevailed. Only 67 bass were checked in on Saturday, and Sunday was a blowout. However, Ben reported the north and the south fork of the Mokelumne has been productive for over a week; the San Joaquin is coming to life—mainly from the mouth of 3 mile slough and including Santa Clara and San Andreas shoals up to Venice Island Sounding board and Prisoner's Point. With clearing water, and less wind, the Rio Vista Bay, Decker Island and Franks Tract should be worth a trial.

Gone Fishin' — Trout Season Tomorrow

The "GONE FISHIN" signs will be displayed prominently throughout California tomorrow and in Marin County thousands of anglers will celebrate the opening of the state's 1965 trout season on the banks of local lakes and streams.

With 33,000 freshly-planted Rainbow trout as their prime targets, the local angling army is expected to strike is rich at Marin Municipal Water District lakes. The State Department of Fish and Game has stocked lakes Bon Tempe, Lagunitas and Nicasio each with 10, 000 catchable-sized Rainbows while Rodeo Lagoon in Fort Chronkhite, southern Marin, received 3,000 more from the general state.

Also opening locally tomorrow —but without benefit of the state's generosity — will be MMWD lakes Kent and Alpine and Papermill Creek. The Papermill tributary, Devils Gulch Creek, at Samuel Taylor State Park will remain closed throughout the season.

Season officially opens at one hour before sunrise, which tomorrow will be 5:16 a.m., and extends through Oct. 31. MMWD lakes are closed on Sundays with the exception of Nicasio Lake which is open daily.

Most of the trout caught tomorrow will be in the six to nine-inch category, but some of the more skilled—and luckier—anglers could catch one of the lunkers known to inhabit the local waters. There are some steelhead up to 10 pounds in Nicasio and Kent lakes, according to State Game Warden Al Giddings. Nicasio also should produce a number of black bass and blue gills.

Giddings said an extra force of game wardens will patrol Marin's fishin' holes tomorrow to see that laws are obeyed. He reminded one and all that a state fishing license ($3) and two stamps ($1 each) are required of each angler. Also, permits ($3) are required by the MMWD and may be purchased at its main office in Corte Madera.

Giddings also pointed out a new anti-litter law in the State Fish and Game Code that prohibits the disposal of trash within 150 feet of inland waters.

The limit is the same as last year—10 fish per day.

Each angler may fish with only one rod and line and no more than three hooks, Giddings added. Also, use of hamburger or liver as bait is prohibited.

Lil Scotto Rolls Booming 637 Series At Greenbrae

A booming 637 series, punctuated with a 247 game, by Lil Scotto was the talk of Greenbrae Lanes in league action during the past week.

Mrs. Scotto rolled her fine scores in the Nite Owls League. Her other games in the three-game series were 190 and 200.

That 247 was high line for both men and women and her 637 was only 11 pins shy of the men's high for the week as Ken Carlton posted a top 648 in the 905 Classic League. Carlton's total was made up of 215, 236 and 197.

Gloria Biss followed Mrs. Scotto among the women with a 604 three-gamer, featuring a 226, in the Coffee Cuppers League. Mary Smiley turned in a nifty 244, also in the Coffee Cuppers, and Ruth Watson a 723 four-game series, featuring a 213 solo, in the Monday Triplets League.

Nicklaus Trails By 8 Strokes At Vegas

Funseth and Doug Sanders were tied at 69, and Bob Charles, Paul Harney and Chi Chi Rodriguez were deadlocked at 70.

Nicklaus, the 5-2 betting favorite to win the event for the third straight time, beat only one golfer in the initial round. Pete Brown of Los Angeles had a 78, along with a muscle spasm in the back that might put him out of action.

"That's the best I've putted in a year," said Palmer, who hasn't won a tournament in a year. He needed only 26 putts for the round.

What did he think of his eight strokes over Nicklaus?

Forgotten by the Las Vegas betting people who went overboard on Nicklaus was Jack's own observation that he might not be as sharp for a tournament of this nature after a two-week layoff since winning the Masters.

Nicklaus proved his point early. He was in the rough on seven of the first nine holes, and the rough this year at the Desert Inn is no place for man or golf ball.

"They tell me someone found a dead calf in that high grass," said the imaginative Snead.

The Slammer's only bad moment was a double bogey six on the 13th hole. He hit a ball that disappeared in an olive tree, actually a tree trimmed to the proportions of a thicket.

"You can stand back and throw 1,000 balls into that bush and they wouldn't get where mine did," Snead explained.

Norcal Stream Conditions

Pacific Gas and Electric Company stream scouts, starting their 21st year of reporting stream conditions for California fishermen, predict a spotty opener for the 1965 trout season. High, murky stream conditions coupled with heavy, late season snows and storm-wracked roads in the mountains will make the going rough at upper elevations. Here's the rundown:

HUMBOLDT COUNTY: General trout season opens May 29 in Humboldt and Del Norte counties and Mad River drainage except Ruth Lake. Ruth Lake high, muddy.

MENDOCINO-LAKE COUNTIES: Eel River drainage, except Lake Pillsbury, closed until May 29. Lake Pillsbury high, murky. Two-ton vehicle limit on county bridge above mill, old logging road closed. Russian River high, muddy. Blue, Clear Lakes high, murky but clearing.

TRINITY COUNTY: Main Trinity controlled and clearing. Tributaries and Trinity Lake high, murky. Lewiston Lake clear. Upper lakes snowed in.

PIT RIVER: Main Pit and Tributaries high, mostly murky. Best bets: Hatchet, Roaring, Hat, Nelson Creeks. Check ahead on back road conditions. Weather can wipe out all possibilities.

COW-BATTLE CREEKS: All streams and reservoirs high. Kilarc Reservoir, South Battle Creek clearing.

SACRAMENTO RIVER (REDDING-TEHAMA AREA): Roily water prevails. Sacramento low. Mill, Deer Creeks high; upper elevations may be fishable.

FEATHER RIVER: Lake Almanor filling, clear. Tributaries closed until May 29. North Fork below Almanor high, murky. Check locally on roads. Caribou to Howells clear. Upper lakes and streams snowed in.

BUTTE COUNTY: Upper lakes frozen. West Branch of North Fork of Feather clear. Sacramento River, Big Chico Creek high. Salmon season closes April 30. Big, Little Kimshew high, murky.

YUBA RIVER: North Fork high, roily. Gold, salmon, Fordyce, Sterling Lakes and Lake Valley Reservoir frozen. Sardine Lake clear, recommend 4-wheel drive. Scotts Flat Reservoir high, murky. South Fork clear. Lakes Spaulding, Fuller high, clear. Afternoon winds expected on Spaulding. Four-wheel drive to Fuller. Bear River in Bear Valley subject to flow fluctuation. Muddy below Dutch Flat due to construction. Lower tributaries fair to good. Check ahead on roads.

AMERICAN RIVER: South Fork, Silver Fork, Cable Creek high, clearing. Twin, Silver, Desolation Valley Lakes snowed in. Union Valley, Jenkins Lakes clear. Ice House Reservoir murky, high from melting snow.

MOKELUMNE RIVER: Blue Lakes, Bear River Reservoir closed by snow. Salt Springs Reservoir open and clear. Regulator Lake, Tiger Creek Afterbay, Mokelumne between Salt Springs and Tiger Creek Afterbay and tributaries high, clear. Low water at Salt Springs will create boat launching problems.

Rezoning Bid Is On Agenda For Planners

The Marin County Planning Commission Monday will consider Matthew Farr's application for rezoning to allow a single-family residential development west of Fairfax.

The land is north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and west of Olema Road. The change from interim zoning to planned residential zoning would building lots ranging from 7,500 to 40,000 square feet.

The planning commission will meet at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Farr application is No. 16 on its agenda.

The commission will hold its second hearing on the 719-acre Black Point Master Plan proposed by Alameda Homes. The plan includes residential development around lagoons, apartments on hillsides and a shopping center. It is No. 17 on the agenda.

No. 6 on the agenda is a tentative subdivision map submitted by Jack Stockstill for a 89-acre tract on Drake's Summit Road adjacent to Point Reyes National Seashore.

No. 14 is the application of Hoytt Enterprises, Inc., for approval of a tentative map for townhouses on 14 acres southwest of Miller Creek Road and Marinwood Avenue in Marinwood.

Campus Rebels Called Healthy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A Stanford University psychiatrist says that "to say students are rebelling in order to gain control and run the universities makes about as much sense as saying that because Negroes in America want civil rights they seek to overthrow the government."

Students, says Dr. James Paulsen, are simply transforming healthy resentments into rebellion.

He told the American College Health Association yesterday that adults often demand an end to student demonstrations because "it is awkward to have youth point out deficiencies in adult behavior and to initiate leadership where we provide sham and ineptitude."

Sausalito Church Due Ibsen Play

Henrik Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People" will be presented by the Bishop's Company of Burbank at 8 p.m. May 12, at Campbell Hall, Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

No admission will be charged but donations will be asked. Campbell Hall is at Santa Rosa and San Carlos avenues.

The play concerns the conflict which arises when it is learned that the natural hot springs in a small Norwegian village, vital to the town's economy, are contaminated.

President of the Inverness Improvement Assn. is Elmer Williams.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

SECOND SECTION Friday, April 30, 1965 21

HORRORS!—Dracula and Vampira, played by William Jacob and Dawn Scheiren, appear in scene from Novato Community Club's "Two Sheets to the Wind." The variety show will open tonight at 8:30 p.m. at the Novato Community House. (Independent-Journal photo)

'Two Sheets To The Wind' Spoofs 'Munsters' Tonight

"Two Sheets to the Wind" is the title of the spring production of Novato Community Club scheduled for 8:30 p.m. today and tomorrow and May 7 and 8 at the Novato community house.

Donald Leaf directs the show. It was written by Robert and Marie Comaduran, Chris Kollgaard, Alex Consagra and Leaf. Paul Terry is producer.

Members of the cast include: Lois Wright as Kay Gotz, Art Bliss as John Young, Dawn Scheiren as Vampira, William Jacob as Dracula, Jay Roberts as Igor, Donal Merkeley and Max Keeler as Maurice and Bruce, two friendly ghosts, John Little Field as Dr. Sorebutt, Michael Jones as Ralph Bedwards, Pat Conway as a female gypsy.

Jean Teague is musical director and Lorayne Crozier, pianist.

He Enters Cage While Wife Holds Revolver

CHICAGO (AP) — When wild animal trainer Robert Baudy, 42, enters the cage with eight tigers, his wife stands outside with a revolver loaded with special blunt pointed bullets.

"They have blunt points so that they won't go through the tiger's head and perhaps hit me, too," he said after a performance with a Shrine Circus.

He says there is more than a hint of show business involved in producing any animal act.

"You must create the illusion of danger," he said. "That is why I do not wear a shirt while performing with the big cats. The customers realize that I do not have the protection of the clothing if one of the cats makes a leap for me."

During one night performance a tiger named Angel leaped at him from behind. A warning from his wife enabled Baudy to escape being mauled, by inches.

When the Southern Pacific railroad was extended to Modesto in the 1870s, the name "Ralston" was suggested for the city-to-be in honor of William C. Ralston, colorful California financier. Ralston declined, whereupon a caballero observed, "El Senor es muy modesto" (the gentleman is very modest). "That's a good name," Ralston said. "Let's call it Modesto."

Marin Yields Stereoscopes By The Dozens

The stereoscope, a three-dimensional viewer which has been collecting dust on shelves since its hey-day at the turn of the century, has been rediscovered in Marin.

Marin Art and Garden Fair Manager Marcelle McCoy last week sought, through an Independent-Journal article, the loan of one of the old-fashioned viewers for publicity purposes.

According to Mrs. McCoy, "the fair received scores of phone calls and cards from people offering old stereoscopes which have been tucked away on shelves for generations."

The stereoscope is a viewer in which nearly two identical pictures, mounted side by side on a card, are inserted. The pictures, when viewed simultaneously, result in a three-dimensional scene.

Hamburger eateries in Paris now do a booming business, and most of the customers are French.

'Soap Box Derby' Set In Mill Valley

A "soap box derby," sponsored by Cub Scout Pack 28 of Mill Valley, will be held May 9, starting on Throckmorton Avenue in front of Old Mill School. Inspection will be at 1:30 p.m. with the race to follow.

About 20 coasters have been built by Scouts with aid of their fathers, said Cubmaster William E. Busby. Trophies will be awarded.

Attention All Cars

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A voice from above keeps interfering with Judge Richard N. Roylston and the conduct of his courtroom.

At least, Roylston now knows where it comes from. But electronics experts have been unable to figure out how to stop the police radio from broadcasting in occasional spurts over the speaker system in the courtroom.

On ship, the deckhouse is becominga n office. Cargo vessels are switching to fully automatic boiler rooms.

SCOUTING SKILLS ON DISPLAY

Scouting skills, such as the one being explained here, will be demonstrated as part of Marin's first scout circus in 10 years, scheduled June 5 at 8 p.m. on the College of Marin athletic field. The circus, planned with the theme "Scouting With Uncle Sam," will also include depictions of American history and an animal fair. Shown here with circus chairman Donald Bull of Kentfield are Strawberry Troop 33 scouts Michael Gallagher, John Clark and David Watson.

Marinites Aid Rights Vote Drive

Mississippi civil rights workers Michael J. Smith of Corte Madera and Patricia Hansen of Sausalito planned to assist in a drive to register about 75 Negroes at Fayette, county seat of Jefferson County, Miss., today in observance of a county-wide Freedom Day.

Smith and Miss Hansen have been working in the Council of Federated Organizations' voter registration drive in Natchez, Miss., near Fayette, according to Peter Milenburg, a fellow-worker from Dartmouth College in New Hampshire.

Milenburg told the Independent-Journal yesterday that he and Smith have been sworn at and threatened by policemen in Natchez.

"We expect violence tomorrow when the Negroes try to register because members of the Ku Klux Klan have been arriving in Fayette for a statewide rally Sunday," Milenburg reported.

Property Owners Slate Election

Directors of the Marin Property Owners Assn. will elect three new directors at their meeting Wednesday noon at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

The directors will also discuss hiring an executive director for the newly formed organization.

Aptitude Tests Planned At 3 High Schools

Scholastic aptitude tests of the College Entrance Examination Board will be given tomorrow at three secondary schools in Marin.

College board officials estimate that 24,350 students will take the tests tomorrow at 218 testing centers in the western states. About half of these are in California.

The "SAT" tests are used for admission to 87 colleges in the western region.

Jules E. Chourre, counselor, will be in charge of testing at San Rafael High School. Merrill R. Convis, counselor, will be in charge at Sir Francis Drake High School, and Mrs. Adela M. Paterson at Katharine Branson School.

Palsied Children Swim Program Set

The United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Marin is registering cerebral palsied children for its pre-summer swimming program, association president Judson B. Goodrich announced today.

The program, for children aged 4 and up, consists of eight 20 minute private lessons given afternoons at the Melvin Sidham swimming pool at 8 Cabrillo Court, San Rafael.

Money Is Stolen From Apartment

Money and valuables totaling $356 were stolen from the apartment of Iva Ansara of 320 Third Street, San Rafael, Wednesday night.

San Rafael police said someone entered by forcing the apartment's rear door between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. and stole $21 cash and several pieces of jewelry.

PRESIDENT COMPLETES 100 DAYS

Good Times, Bad Seen For Johnson In His Own Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson completes today the first 100 days of his four-year term — a 100-day blend of triumph, struggle, elation and disappointment.

The first three days Johnson served as president in his own right set a symbolic pattern for the peaks and valleys he has been negotiating ever since.

First came the triumph of Inauguration Day, formalizing a record election victory. Then, with startling suddenness, the President found himself flat abed in a hospital with an obscure virus that came to be called the executive flu.

UPS, DOWNS

In a larger and more significant context, Johnson's ups and downs have been equally marked:

In dealings with the heavily Democratic Congress, the President achieved a clear triumph in his first 100 days. More major bills moved farther and faster than in any comparable period since the early days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

In the foreign field, however, frustration, tragedy and disappointment overtook Johnson's January hopes of making 1965 a year for building global peace. Though these hopes may yet be restored, attention now is focused on an enlarged war in Viet Nam, with no sign of a favorable Communist response to the President's repeated offers of unconditional settlement talks.

VIET DILEMMA

The Viet Nam dilemma also has produced the first significant, if limited, criticism of Johnson that cuts across party lines. Ever sensitive to criticism, the President has withheld any direct and sharp response but, personally and through members of the Cabinet, has tried to deal indirectly with many of the points raised by local dissidents. If the global outlook has been sharply altered in 100 days, there have been less dramatic changes in the appearance and actions of the 57-year-old President himself.

The human whirlwind of 1964 is working as hard as ever — perhaps harder — but the pace may be taking a toll.

More often than before, Johnson has looked tired in recent months. Those who see him infrequently have noticed it most. Very recently, however, he has seemed more like his old self.

FEELS FINE

Johnson says he feels fine, has lost weight — which pleases his doctors — and is doing his best to find time for regular exercise and an afternoon nap.

Walking currently is his favorite exercise. He abandoned the heated White House swimming pool, at least temporarily, after his January flu attack.

The doctors have testified that the President's health remains excellent. But they have urged him to allot more time for relaxation — something he seems to do best at his Texas ranch.

Formal speaking engagements outside Washington have approached the vanishing point. There have been only three in 100 days and two of these dealt with Viet Nam.

Johnsonian secrecy about travel plans has become more pronounced. Most of his recent weekend trips to Texas weren't announced until the moment of departure. The apparent reason: If a development in Viet Nam should force him to remain at the White House, he wants to be able to keep the fact secret lest an air of crisis develop.

Vet Hospital Is Ransacked

The Terra Linda Vererinary Hospital at 4230 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, was broken into and ransacked Wednesday night by someone apparently in search of narcotics and money.

San Rafael police spotted a broken window in the building and, on investigating, found drawers and cabinets had been searched and $25 was missing.

Wolfe Grade Extension Plan Retention Praised

Marin County Board of Supervisors this week reversed an earlier decision and put the Wolfe Grade extension back into the Kentfield General Plan.

This does not mean that the Wolfe Grade extension will become a reality today, tomorrow, or even within the next few years. It merely means that the concept of connecting San Rafael with Bon Air Road, which has been in the county's highway master plan since 1952, will be retained in the general plan instead of being scrapped.

The original Wolfe Grade extension plan was to extend Wolfe Grade past Sir Francis Drake, to connect up with Bon Air Road and Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

Because of the existence of Wolfe Grade School and a storm of protest from residents along Wolfe Grade and in Kentfield, the supervisors last February decided by split vote to abandon the extension idea and look for an alternate route.

Subsequent studies indicate that there is no alternate route that is economically feasible. The logical connecting link between San Rafael and Larkspur is Wolfe Grade extension via D Street, over Wolfe Grade, past Sir Francis Drake and on to Bon Air Bridge near Marin General Hospital.

Supervisor Ernest Kettenhofen has always favored retention of the Wolfe Grade Extension Plan. It was largely through his insistence that the controversial Wolfe Grade extension was reinstated in the Kentfield general plan.

It is also to the credit of the other supervisors who switched their votes to save Wolfe Grade extension from extinction, once they ascertained that no other alternative was practical.

But from a long-range view, we believe the interests of Marin County will be better served by a direct connecting link from San Rafael to Bon Air Bridge and Larkspur. Without this connection, all traffic between Larkspur and San Rafael will have to take a round-about route via Ross and San Anselmo, or Greenbrae and Highway 101. Either way, the traffic over Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be further congested.

The Tamarisks Of Greenbrae

Tamarisk is a native of Europe and Asia. It is the common name for the genus, Tamarix, a group of deciduous shrubs and trees noted for their graceful lines and unusual appearance.

Oregon Governor Makes Charge Without Looking At The Facts

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

THE GOVERNOR of Oregon, commenting on the proposed exchange of Point Reyes Seashore land with timberland in Oregon, accused the federal Bureau of Land Management and the National Park Service of "secret manuevers."

The outburst by the governor is either politically motivated, or based on a complete lack of information on what has been going on for the past three or four years.

As early as November, 1961, we had headlines announcing a proposed land swap by timber interests at Point Reyes.

In March of 1962, the I-J and other newspapers in the Bay Area carried stories about the proposed swapping of timberland. A sample news story:

"A WEALTHY Oregon timber merchant has offered to give the government more than 3,000 choice acres of Point Reyes land in return for vast forest holdings from the Oregon border south into Humboldt County.

Then on March 29, 1962, the late Rep. Clem Miller reported that Secretary of Interior Steward Udall was pushing for the swapping of timber rights.

On Oct. 8, 1964, the National Park Service disclosed that the Dr. Millard Ottinger ranch (1,400 acres) had been added to the Point Reyes Seashore. The property was obtained from Page Land and Cattle Co. of Phoenix in exchange for desert lands east of Phoenix.

There was no secret about these "deals." They were all announced in the press.

FURTHER EVIDENCE that there was nothing hush-hush about land-swap negotiations between Mr. Bill Sweet and the federal government came in a little incident that occurred last December.

Mr. Sweet had a map of Oregon and California laid out on the living room floor, showing us what pieces of timberland in Oregon he was hoping to get in exchange for land he was forced to give up in Point Reyes. And he knew all along he was talking to a newspaperman.

Toss in a few facts, mix it up with politics, and you sometimes come up with a completely distorted picture, as the governor of Oregon seems to have done in this instance.

IN THE RACE for the superior court bench (when N. Charles Brusatori retires in June), it looks as if Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court and attorney Wallace S. Myers of San Anselmo are leading the field.

Judge Wilson isn't the senior member of the municipal court bench. Neither is he the only Democrat. But apparently he has the overwhelming backing of Marin barristers.

IF A MUNICIPAL judge should move up into superior court, then another vacancy will be created in muni court. At the moment, young Hadden Roth seems to be the front runner for that post.

Why isn't Alvin Goldstein mentioned more prominently as candidate for municipal judgeship? We're not sure. But there's some speculation that Goldstein may be trying for a direct jump into superior court instead of going up through the ranks via the municipal bench.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Didn't Like Cancer Series

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The majority of the members of the Mastectomy Service Club of Marin, composed of women who have had breast cancer, are of the opinion that the series of articles recently published in your newspaper on cancer is objectionable because of its scare headlines and negative approach.

We believe that material presented in this manner regardless of its merit does not get across to the majority the important point buried in the text: "The best assurance of beating cancer lies in having a thorough physical examination periodically." As noted in the articles themselves, many dangerously delay going to their doctor because of emotional reasons. The scare approach heightens this hysterical reaction. We know from our own experience that a mastectomy with early diagnosis is a commonplace surgery, performed for excellent cause, and recovery is rapid, uneventful and complete.

We do think that the factual, educational approach as presented in the column, "How to Keep Well," by Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen Page 44, April 7, 1965) is excellent and hope that from time to time equal space will be given to articles of this educational nature.

One Wonders What Will Happen

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In answer to E. L. Dagget—Can't you see by the last two elections that the County employees don't want people to vote any more? By confusing people, they think they will get discouraged and not go to the polls to vote so they can do anything and appoint anyone they want in office. And you know that the last four or five years our country has deteriorated so badly that one commences to wonder what is going to happen. It is not funny.

College Foundation Voices Gratitude

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Once again I have the pleasure of expressing my appreciation for assistance to the College of Marin Foundation in the excellent article appearing April 22 and written by Mr. Coppock.

Not only is this excellent reporting, in my opinion, but it certainly helps put over the story of ways in which the foundation can be aided.

Thanks again to you and Bob Coppock. . . .

U.N. Failure A Point Of View

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Dr. Hanzel alleges that it is partly our fault that the U. N. is a failure, and I for once agree with him, but not for the same reasons.

It is our fault to the extent that we even condoned starting such an organization with Communists as collaborators. . . .

Communism is in control of roughly two-thirds of the world today. They got where they are through our help and duplicity; and if we continue on this same "Road to Ruin" which we have pursued since 1942, then it won't be long before the death knell will ring over freedom. . . .

The U. N. is a total farce and our best position would be to withdraw. Let the Communists have it and support it. We've been bled white enough because of it and because of it millions of peoples throughout this world no longer have any freedom.

If there are those who insist on a U. N., let us then have a U. N. of free nations, dedicated to the principles of our American Constitution and not this present-day abortion dedicated to the constitution of the U. S. S. R.

MPO Thanks For Editorial

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The members and board of directors of the Marin Property Owners (MPO) Assn. wish to thank you for the editorial, "MARIN PROPERTY OWNERS GROUP MAY OFFER ANSWER." . . .

We wish to stress that we do fully intend, as you ask, to represent Marin's property owners in a "reasonable, realistic and constructive manner." And we agree that the key to MPO's effectiveness will be in its ability to strike a "healthy balance" among the many pressure groups representing special interests in Marin.

Unless a "practical and business-like approach to orderly development" is taken soon, the economic stability of the community will be in peril. With a full-time executive director, MPO intends to meet this need. . . .

MPO wants the full support of the Marin community—the property owner and the businessman who is truly concerned about economic growth and development, about being forewarned and advised of the actions of public bodies that exercise a regulatory jurisdiction upon real estate.

With the community's support, property rights will no longer be infringed upon without the voice of the Marin Property Owner being heard "loud" and "clear."

Again, thank you very much for the encouraging editorial.

Nature Walk Tales, Speckmann Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"In my book" the coverage on the nature walks for parents and wee bairn is just beautiful. . . . All partiality aside, it's just GOOD.

I enjoyed Maybelle Speckmann's report of our Mrs. Gross' report-back on schools.

Mr. Interlandi will probably be surprised at the honor you pay him, but I certainly think he deserves it.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A SPUNKY young lord in London at the turn of the century married a beautiful young actress despite the very voluble objections of his cousin, Queen Victoria. After some years the Queen, who never had bothered even to congratulate the young lord, relented to the extent of having one of her ladies-in-waiting send word she would receive the actress at Buckingham Palace for a brief visit. The lord, unappeased, sent back this message: "I am afraid, Your Majesty, that my wife will not be able to spare the time to come calling. She only sees friends."

A LITTLE girl once asked a distinguished historian what war was. He explained, "Millions of men with guns from one country go out and meet millions of men with guns from another country, and although they're all total strangers, they do everything they can to kill each other."

Pondered the little girl, "But suppose nobody shows up?"

LBJ Appears To Have Support For Tough Policy In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — There is every reason to believe President Lyndon B. Johnson will widen and hold a decisive consensus in support of a strong policy in Viet Nam.

He has one special asset. He is occupying his usual stance at the center. His policy is wedded to neither extreme. He rests on two pillars: Clear determination to defend as long as the aggression continues; clear willingness to talk whenever Hanoi will start talking.

THERE ARE other factors which contribute to the president's support:

The Gallup Poll shows that the minority which wants Johnson to step up the war more than balances out the minority which wants him to quit.

His senatorial, newspaper and professional critics can offer no acceptable alternative. They are prepared to accept Chinese Communist domination of all Southeast Asia. This is an alternative the American people will not accept without trying to do something about it.

THE PRESIDENT has the backing of many Democrats in Congress (his offer of "unconditional discussions" won the approval of the ADA) and most Republicans. His Republican support runs the whole gamut from Barry Goldwater to the GOP leadership in Congress, including Sen. Everett Dirksen and Rep. Gerald Ford.

Despite the honest, emotional student pickets and the college teach-ins, this leaves Johnson in a strategic position. And here is the evidence:

The Gallup Poll finds that 29 per cent of the country would like to see the U. S. withdraw completely from Viet Nam, stop the fighting whatever the effects, and start negotiations whatever the outcome. It also finds that 31 per cent of the country favors stepping up military activity, and going the full distance of declaring war.

THE PRESIDENT embraces neither extreme. He does not propose to withdraw or even cease defending. But he will start talking even while defending. He does not seek a solution by military means alone, but he will use military means until Hanoi is willing to use the conference table.

Where does this leave Johnson with respect to a public consensus? To obtain further evidence of the public's attitudes toward the handling of the situation in Viet Nam, Dr. George Gallup put this question to people in the same survey cited above: "Do you think the U. S. is handling affairs in Viet Nam as well as could be expected, or do you think we are handling affairs there badly?"

The result was that by a ratio of more than 2-to-1 the American people approve of the government's handling of the situation.

IF THERE is any threat to the president's expanding and holding this consensus on Viet Nam, it would come, I think, from any sign of weakening in his policy.

Hopes High Book To Pay Inaugurual Bills

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson's Inaugural Committee is some $200,000 in the red—but is resorting to an ingenious stratagem to lick it.

It's a 112-page profusely illustrated book priced at $10.

TITLED "Inaugural 1965," with a buckram cover, a dozen articles, and more than 200 color and other illustrations of notables and major events of the January swearing-in activities, the 25,000 copies being printed are expected not only to wip out the hefty deficit, but produce a profit.

The 1961 Kennedy Inaugural Committee, headed by Edward Foley, one-time general counsel of the Treasury Department, wound up $222,000 to the good—contributed to the United Givers Fund.

Although more than three months have elapsed since the inauguration, committee chairman Dale Miller has no idea when it will be possible to close the accounts and make a report. The tall, white-crested Texas lobbyist and long-time friends of the president anticipates it will be some months—at the earliest.

Miller, determined to close in the black, has elaborate plans to vigorously push the sale of the $10 souvenir opus. Committee insiders indicate bulk orders running into the hundreds are "likely" from defense, space and other government contractors.

A number of them are financial guarantors of the inaugural, and may be paid off in part by sizable book purchases—which are tax deductible as business expenses.

SO CONFIDENT is Miller that the book will be a resounding success as a deficit eradicator that more copies are being printed than advance orders. Also, while "no large bulk orders" have yet been received, he is definitely going after them.

"Sure, I'll promote bulk orders from companies and others," he says. "Why not? That's perfectly proper, and I think they'll want the book. Also, such purchases are tax deductible. Once people see this book, I am certain they'll want it. There will be a big demand all over the country.

"WE MAY EVEN place it in bookstores. I think it would be a shame if every library and school in the country doesn't have one. I'd like to see some foundations buy it and give it to them. That would be very educational and cultural."

"Inaugural 1965" consists of three sections:

Book One, titled "Leaders of America," is largely the same as the paperback souvenir program hawked in Washington during the ceremonies at $1. Featured prominently are color photos of President Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and their wives.

Book Two, titld "Spirit of the Inauguration," has accounts of its leading events and scores of pictures of notables, including every governor in the Union. Book Three, titled "Threshold of the Future," is made up of articles by a half dozen name authorities, and the president's State of the Union message.

AMONG THE authors are Prof. Henry Steele Commager, leading historian; Bruce Catton, noted Civil War chronicler, and, surprisingly, James Farley, one-time postmaster general and Democratic national chairman.

Appeal For Reason On War Threat Falls On Deaf Ears

WASHINGTON—The border dispute between Pakistan and India has our State Department people worried silly, and every effort is being made, behind the scenes, to keep the two countries from going to war.

I haven't been privy to any of these discussions, but I can just imagine what is going on.

"MR. AMBASSADOR, the United States is extremely worried about the Pakistani-Indian dispute and we urge you to refrain from doing anything rash that could lead to war."

"Mr. Secretary, my country cannot stand by and see aggression committed by an enemy that has sworn to annihilate us."

"Mr. Ambassador, the United States is well aware of the complex problems of the Pakistani-Indian dispute, but we are sure that both your countries should be able to negotiate."

"WE REFUSE to negotiate until they get out of our territory."

"But the other side says that you are in their territory. Surely you must understand that, if both sides refuse to go to the conference table, the only alternative is an armed conflict."

"Then we are prepared to fight for our interests."

"But what kind of a world would we have if everybody felt that way? Where would the United Nations be?"

"WE ARE BEHIND the United Nations 100 per cent except where our own interests are concerned. I have incontrovertible evidence that the other side is planning to attack, and my country is issuing a white paper to that effect."

"Mr. Ambassador, it's obvious you don't realize the consequences of such a situation. If you send troops to the border, then the other side will send troops to the border, and pretty soon what is now a border dispute could turn into a full-size conflagration."

"What choice do we have, Mr. Secretary?"

"You must find a peaceful solution. Nothing could be worth the risk of an all-out war."

"MR. SECRETARY, my country is willing to discuss unconditional negotiations providing the other side ceases immediately its flagrant operations in the Rann of Cutch."

"Mr. Ambassador, the other side insists it cannot sit at the table with you until you stop your actions in the Rann of Cutch. Don't you see the impasse we're in?"

"Mr. Secretary, my country's whole future is at stake in this dispute. If we show any weakness, the other side will take advantage of it. Appeasement never got anyone anywhere."

"There's a difference between appeasement and common sense, Mr. Ambassador. If the United States took your attitude, we certainly would be in trouble now."

"I'M SORRY, Mr. Secretary, but the only thing the United States could do to help us at this time is to give us some new jet fighter planes."

"What, escalate the war?"

Poverty Program In Marin? It's Needed At Tax Time

LOVE, DEATH, taxes. What is important? Ethelwinn Steese says this the time of the sea gull in Sausalito.

"There is this piling protruding from the water which has just room for one sea gull most times of the year. But this time of the year there are two," she advised.

"And on the ferry boat, San Rafael, the one Sterling Hayden used to work on, swallows are nesting all over. Pretty soon all the ropes will be a string of little swallows."

PHIL PALMER expressed surprise when he heard the poverty program had come to Marin. "But," he said, "we'll need it when taxes come out this fall."

Whom should we meet at the tax assessor's information center at Brown's Hall on Tuesday but Manny Gomez.

He said he'd been there about three hours. "I didn't question what they did. I just wanted to be explained," said he. "In one piece of property the market valuation went up $141,600. In sales valuation, it was $23,400. That's on one piece and yet there is nothing wrong with what they are doing.

"BUT I WISH the people who were there today discussing this with (County Assessor Bert W.) Broemmel ought to know that this is not the place to be in the group. The place to be is in the 13 agencies that sets the tax for the county and city and schools, the fire and sanitary districts. There is where they can hold the line.

"If they want to know what Miller Avenue beautification costs, look at your tax bill. It's nice to ask for the trees and park but that is what shows on your tax bill. Maybe we should keep it a little more rural. We're going to be so rural that the citizens will emphasize by walking barefoot."

ON THE DAY of the Little League parade we found a family eating a picnic lunch seated in gravity car No. 15 in Lytton Square. Asked when the next train left, the man replied, "In 15 minutes."

Bill Remak tells this story of how he turned $1 worth of beer into $43 for the Chile earthquake relief fund in Sausalito. "I bought $1 worth of beer, raffled it at 50 cents a ticket at the Sausalito Lions Club, raising $10. Then, at Rotary, I raffled $10 in bills to take in $33. Then George Elkington, who won, donated the whole amount back into the kitty."

Bill Woods, who usually puts an arrow on his chimney outside at Christmas time, ran up a fish pole a few days ago with a pink bath towel on it. His daughter, Donna Hamlow, had produced a baby girl, Dana Lyn.

EVERY YEAR in spring we visit Buena Vista Avenue to see how the gardens grow. Miss Minnie Iverson reports that, despite rains, she has a "most beautiful garden." Tulips are "thicker than ever, rhododendrons are coming out" and she's planted seven new rose bushes. "But the back yard," she said, "has never had so many weeds.

Her neighbor, Mrs. S. Gundelfinger, claims the rain held her up a bit but added, "I'm getting too old to garden. Rain doesn't hurt Minnie. That garden is her life. I think the garden isn't my life any more." Asked if she still has her old-fashiend bonnet, she smiled and said, "Yes, still have my bonnet but it looks like the tail end of nothing."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

FUSSELMAN

OUR ASSESSOR prepared a paper in February, 1964, entitled "DISCUSSION OF A PROPERTY TAX DEFERRAL PLAN FOR OLDER CITIZENS" (Presumably Retired With Fixed Income). Last week this column carried the "Introduction." I suggested that those interested keep a file on this so you will have the complete paper to again read in its entirety.

FOLLOWING IS "FINANCING: On the premise that the plight of the aging is a statewide problem rather than a local problem, it is proposed that the state finance the plan through bond issues. As repayments occur bonds would be retired. The interest cost to the state would be charged to the homeowner, being allowed to accumulate with the principal. Each year, the state would remit to the local governments the amount of current taxes to be deferred, thereby leaving the local tax base uneffected. Upon change of ownership by demise or otherwise, the amount of taxes advanced, plus interest at the state's borrowing cost, plus, say $4 per annum for administrative costs, would be paid to the state from funds realized on transfer of the property. In the infrequent event that indebtedness exceeds the amount realized from the sale of the property in an open market transaction, the deficit would be charged against the state's general fund. It is felt that the relative small losses so occasioned would compare favorably with the expenses the government might have had to bear had the old-ager been forced out of his home during his last years.

"QUALIFICATIONS FOR ELIGIBILITY: These could be argued at great length. There could theoretically be no strings at all. As we make qualifications more restrictive, we enlarge the administrative burden—this could conceivably lead to the point where administration could be so burdensome as to make compliance either unenforceable or economically unfeasible. AGE: Should age of 65 be the minimum age? While this is consonant with Social Security, we are told that it is realistic to recognize that more and more persons are retiring at age 60.

"FINANCIAL QUALIFICATIONS: If qualifications are to be established, they should apply only as they exist AT THE TIME OF APPLICATION FOR DEFERRAL. Otherwise there would have to be annual review—extensive audit programs which would not only be costly, but work a hardship on older persons.

"VALUE OF PROPERTY AND EXTENT TO WHICH TAXES ARE TO BE DEFERRED: In some areas of the state, the value of a home of a representative retired couple may range from $10,000 to $15,000: in others it may range from $16,000 to upwards of $20,000. It might be safe to assume that a market value ceiling of $20,000 would be realistic. There are three alternatives for measuring the market value: (1) using the assessed value of the real property appearing on the last equalized assessment roll and applying the County Assessor's states assessment ratio thereto (2) using assessed value appearing on the last equalized roll and applying the State Board of Equalization's determination of the County's assessment ratio and (3) having a special appraisal made for this determination—the latter would put less pressure on the Assessor, but would be costly. Another course would be to defer only those tax amounts attributable to the first $5,000 of assessed value, deducting there-from the dollar benefit of the veteran's exemption, if any, the applicant being responsible for current payments on the balance. There should not be very many who could meet limitation on assets owned, described below, who would own dwellings much in excess of $20,000. This concept would be simpler, tend to keep down demands on the State for financing, as land values increase and discourage maintaining dwellings in locations where a marked change in land use comes about."

Learn Not To Choose Lead By Seeking Sequence In Game

When you study opening leads, you are told that the top card of a sequence is the ideal choice. If you have K-Q-J or Q-J-10 of a suit, look no further.

This is like putting salt and pepper in your coffee because they go so well with most other foods.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

SOUTH WINS

South wins, takes the ace of hearts and gives up a heart. West switches to the ace of trumps and a low trump, but it is too late. South ruffs a heart in dummy, gets back to draw the last trump and gives up a second heart. He loses only two hearts and one trump, making his contract.

In choosing an opening lead, West must pick the suit first. Only then does he think about the right card to lead from that suit.

The fact that West has an ideal holding in clubs is unimportant since clubs is the wrong suit to lead.

BIDDING CLEAR

The bidding should make it clear that West will defeat the contract if he can get his heart tricks.

The only danger is that South may ruff hearts in the dummy. West should meet this threat by removing trumps from the dummy.

In some hands it is best to lead low from A-x-x of trumps. If partner wins the first defensive trick he will be able to return a trump, and then you can take the ace and lead a third trump.

BEST LEAD

When partner is unlikely to win a trick, the best lead is the ace of trumps and then a low trump; this makes sure of getting two rounds of trumps out of the way as quickly as possible.

Either method will work in this case. West should lead the ace of trumps and a low trump.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♠ A 5 4
♥ K J 9 8
♦ 7 5 2
♣ Q J 10

What do you say?

Answer: Raise to three spades. There is no need to bid more at this time. You expect to move toward a slam, but any bulky bid at this stage might prevent you from deciding for or against a grand slam.

WOODEN BARRACKS—With increased military activity just prior to World War II, the need for more barracks in a hurry at Hamilton Field led to abandonment of Capt. Howard B. Nurse's plan for all Spanish style buildings. These wooden barracks were erected quickly.

World War II Brought Great Change To Hamilton Field

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third of a series of five articles on the history of Hamilton Air Force Base written for the 30th anniversary of its dedication on May 12.)

By THERON A. NEWELL

The Army Air Corps, which operated the base, realized the need for reorganization. The General Headquarters Air Force was established within the Air Corps .

The First Wing was established at Hamilton, with Brig. Gen H. H. Arnold in command. All bombardment and observation units on the West Coast, including the 7th Bombardment group at Hamilton, were assigned to this command. along with the 88th Observation Squadron (Amphibian).

B-12 Martin Bombers were phased out, starting in July, 1937, and replaced by Douglas B-18s.

One of the outstanding pre-war maneuvers of this plane was airlifting of 500 combat - ready troops from Hamilton Field to March Field in January, 1940.

With arrival of the first Boeing B-17 bombers to replace the B-18s, it became evident that longer runways would be needed for the North Marin base to handle the four-motored planes. So in September, 1940, the bombers moved to Utah.

They were replaced at Hamilton by the 20th and 35th Pursuit Groups from Moffett Field with 1,700 enlisted men equipped with 170 P-36s and P-40s. The big increase in personnel required more housing immediately, so frame barracks were hastily constructed and the base lost the pleasing appearance of all-California Spanish architecture.

The two pursuit groups, along with the 82nd Observation Squadron, were given the tasks of defending the West Coast against possible attack and training transient air crews.

Immediately after Pearl Harbor was attacked, the 20th Pursuit Group was sent to the European Theater and the 35th to the Pacific Theater. By then, they had 3,000 permanently assigned men and about 2,000 transient air crew men. Both won distinguished unit citations.

Wartime reorganization brought creation of the Fourth Air Force which was assigned to Hamilton. It was given the task of defending the West Coast.

As Hamilton Field was the center of interceptor pursuit and patrol systems, it began to acquire sub-bases and flight strips. Among these were the municipal airport at Oakland and Mills Field south of San Francisco. It also acquired facilities at Concord, Napa, Oroville, Redding, Sacramento, Santa Rosa, Willows, Hayward, Marysville and Montague.

Hundreds of men arrived each month. If they were unable to leave on schedule because of bad weather, the housing shortage became worse.

From November, 1943, to February, 1945, the field handled 2,695 B-24 crews of 11 men each and planes, and 1,172 crews without aircraft; 2,638 P-38 crews and 302 night fighter crews.

To house this influx of men, a tent city sprang up. Camp San Rafael, where the Marin Golf Club is now, was also used.

In March, 1945, the base became the West Coast terminal for Air Transport Command in its trans-Pacific operations.

With the European war ending, the Pacific war became more intense. Overseas hospitals quickly filled and air evacuation of patients began. In June, 1944, the first wounded arrived at Hamilton. Soon thereafter, more than 4,000 patients per month were arriving. Enlisted men were moved out of Barracks 422 and 424, which were turned into hospitals.

Residents of Marin County, as well as military personnel, pitched in to help take care of this large number of wounded. Hamilton was the scene of many shows put on by the greats of the entertainment and sports world for the wounded.

The rolling tree-clad hills of Hamilton were the first sight of "home" for many of the war wounded. One of them left his impression when he wrote: "It's just like dying and going to heaven when you first get here; I tell you it's a wonderful feeling."

With the surrender of Japan on Sept. 2, 1945, the World War II phase of Hamilton came to an end

Six Novato Houses On Tour Thursday

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Variety in architecture as well as a variety in a way of life will be viewed in the homes on tour in the Novato area when the Novato Community Ambassadors sponsor the annual house tour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Thursday.

Many museum pieces will be seen in the home of the Boris Dragons located on School Lane overlooking the Petaluma River. The Dragons call their home early Comstock which is built of interlocking planks to form the interior and exterior walls. Nails were not used in the construction. The house blends into a natural setting of trees and ferns and is surrounded by a split rail fence with animals roving the hillside below.

THE FAMILY CREST, a Dragon is used inside and outside the home, as the man made pond is in the shape of a Dragon as well as fixtures in the bathroom.

The home is decorated with pieces of furniture that might have been used in the early days of Nevada when family heirlooms combined with pieces brought across the plains as well as Victorian pieces that the "newly rich" might have purchased for their homes.

THE SAM HARKLEROAD home, 17 Harkle Rd., the "Round House", which motorists view as they drive on Highway 101 makes use of the sun or shade as it can revolve 320 degrees with an extensive use of glass in the living room to enjoy the view. A deck around the home has 32 gates enabling one to use the stationary stairway leading to the living area deck.

The two bedroom home is comfortably furnished including a black Swedish fireplace in the living room which conceals the center construction of the round house.

THE HERBERT PRODGER home, with a panoramic view of Marin Country Club, was designed and decorated by Mr. Prodger, an interior decorator. The one bedroom home was especially designed for a couple with comfort and simplicity in mind. Of interest, is the small kitchen which is centered between the spacious living room and family room and permitting the hostess to be with guests in either room. Wood paneling to match the living room and copper tone in appliances makes the room blend into the decor. The Italian Provincial furniture is used in the living room.

THE RICHARD ALCORN home, 621 Canyon Rd., recently remodeled from a two bedroom bungalow to a rustic tri-level has natural materials in the construction including rough board and batten exterior with a shake roof and redwood paneling inside. Richard Clements, who designed the Timber Cove Inn near Ft. Ross, a friend of the Alcorns, supervised the remodeling. The living room has a 20 foot ceiling with a cast concrete fireplace and a floor-to-ceiling bookcase. An unusual black colored swimming pool and the garden patio are seen from tall windows with louvered shutters.

THE LOUIS CAMPAGNOS, who divide their time between their home on 388 Fairway Dr., Marin Country Club Estates and a town house in San Francisco have decorated their gracious home in Mrs. Campagno's favorite colors, white and blue with touches of green and gold. The home overlooks the golf course and a lake. The living

Idaho Dignitary To Visit In Marin

By MOLLY MARIN

Gov. and Mrs. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho will be guests at a small dinner given by their niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raynolds, at their Sleepy Hollow home on Monday evening. Other guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leopold of San Francisco (Alice K. Leopold was assistant secretary of labor in the Eisenhower administration) and the Edward Slevins of Terra Linda.

Though Governor and Mrs. Smylie will be in Marin to visit family members and to see the Reynolds' new baby son, Michael Worth, they will stay in San Francisco through Thursday while the governor attends

SPENDING A FEW DAYS in Mill Valley with the Robert L. Schultzes are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Oehler, former Mill Valleyans who now live in Carmel.

Wednesday evening after a no-host dinner at a Mill Valley restaurant a group of friends, on learning that Mrs. Oehler had with her the colored slides she took on her trip to South America, gathered at the Schultzes' home to see them.

An artist known nationally as Helen Gapen Oehler, Mrs. Oehler left on Jan. 20 for South America and returned three weeks ago. Also a world traveler and lecturer, she took some strenuous trips, as she always does, this time into the High Andes, to see the more primitive aspects of art and cultures in which she is especially interested. They involved a lot of climbing, she said.

MRS. JOHN A. Thomson was hostess at a dinner party Sunday night at her home in Mill Valley honoring Mrs. Lena Meier of Mill Valley, who will be moving to Phoenix, Ariz., next month. Eighteen guests attended. The party was also an advance housewarming, for guests brought gifts they thought would be useful in Mrs. Meier's new home.

MR. AND MRS. STEVE WAYMIRE of Peacock Gap have as their houseguests Mrs. Waymire's parents, the Howard Van Scoyks of Dayton, O. Mrs. Waymire is planning to honor her mother at a coffee party.

THE R. A. LAMOREES of Belvedere and Mrs. Burnett Meisner of San Rafael are on board the SS President Cleveland for a six-week cruise to the Orient. Ports of call include Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

THE PERIPATETIC Madison Devlin family, who always seem to be going somewhere or coming back, will make a more permanent move Saturday when they change their residence from one hilltop to another.

From Julia Avenue in Mill Valley they are moving to Richardson Drive in Strawberry. Mrs. Devlin, a well known artist who is vice president of the Marin Society of Artists, will have a studio in her new home.

Other members of the family will be on the move too. On May 14 their son, William Devlin, and his wife of San Francisco will be leaving for the Hawaiian Islands. They will be honored at a luau given just before they leave by the Devlins at their new home.

Guests will be Mrs. Devlin's mother, Mrs. Ben D. Dixon of Berkeley; Mrs. William Devlin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Gray of San Rafael, and Mrs. Robert Floyd Gray of San Rafael.

Still another traveler will be Devlins' son, Robert Devlin, who will take off for Europe via Air India on June 14 following his graduation from San Jose State College.

Always In Scale

Patterns and designs in suitings and jackets for men must always be in scale with the anatomy, comments Ron Postal, director of the National Council of Men's Fashions. They should be bold for tall or large men, but a large check or stripes on a small man gives the impression he's touting the third race at Santa Anita.

Strawberry Party Marks Sewing Club Anniversary

Mrs. Marcel R. Ehrer of Strawberry was hostess yesterday at her home in Strawberry at a party she gave for her mother, Mrs. John Kraeger, and her sewing club.

The party marked the 50th anniversary of the club organized by Mrs. Kraeger and 12 women of St. Luke's Lutheran Church in San Francisco to sew for church bazaars.

During both world wars the club sewed and knitted under Mrs. Kraeger's direction as a unit of the American Red Cross.

Three of the original members —Mrs. Kraeger, who lives with her son, Alfred Kraeger, in Corte Madera, Mrs. George Borgfeldt and Mrs. Jacob Schlumberger are still active. Newer members of the club are Mesdames Jason Hoffman, Arthur Kruger, Wilhelm Wucherer, Christian Schmidt, Henry Mockel and Fred Stindt.

Guests included the Rev. and Mrs. Francis Schmuck of Lyons, Colo., and the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Horstman of Petaluma. Both of the men were former pastors at St. Luke's. Other guests were Mrs. Alfred Kraeger of Corte Madera and Mesdames Joseph Chiappelone, Evelyn Hausmann and Fred Perdomo, all of San Francisco.

MARKING 50 YEARS

Photographed at the golden anniversary luncheon given yesterday afternoon at the Strawberry home of Mrs. Marcel R. Ehrer were her mother, Mrs. John Kraeger, and two of the women who founded a sewing club 50 years ago this month. The club still meets for lunch every month. From left are Mesdames George Borgfeldt, 81; Jacob Schlumberger, 89; and Mrs. Kraeger, 90. They are admiring the yellow carnations centered with silver thimbles sent by the Earl Hoffmans of San Rafael. Mr. Hoffman is the son of the late Rev. Jason Hoffman, another former pastor at St. Luke's Church. (Independent-Journal photo)

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Arthritis Treatment In Flux As Long As Cause Is Unknown

VAN DELLEN

The treatment of arthritis will remain in a state of flux until the cause is known. One in four recover completely and, for reasons unknown, the disease may suddenly become quiescent. This occasionally occurs to those with severe arthritis and remission may last for years.

Many potent drugs, such as cortisone, the anti-malarials, and phenylbutazone relieve swelling and pain, but do not cure. They are used to bolster morale, but are not recommended for long-term therapy because they are potentially harmful.

MOST PHYSICIANS recommend aspirin, ample rest, therapeutic exercises, and a nourishing diet. Bandages and braces are needed occasionally; deformities require special orthopedic care. The best routine consists in avoiding anything that will impede recovery and correcting any damage or deformities caused by the disease process.

Meanwhile, we are looking for a drug that can be used for long periods of time. Two years ago we wrote about a remarkable anti-rheumatic drug (indomethacin) that reduced pain and swelling within two hours in three out of five individuals with arthritis. In others, it took up to 24 hours to act. In one in five it had no effect.

THE REMEDY is not available in the United States because many users developed toxic side effects. Forty per cent complained of mild headache, dizziness, nausea, drowsiness, diarrhea, or a rash. Some developed severe headaches or giddiness. It cannot be used by anyone with peptic ulcer because of the danger of hemorrhage or perforation. It does not cause ulcers and there is no evidence that indomethacin has any ill effects on the heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, blood or nervous system. The product has many attractive features, and it not shelved, could be used alternately with the cortisone group of hormones or phenylbutazone.

A tetrazole compound is being tested. The new nonsteroid has had highly encouraging results. The compound has fewer side effects than cortisone.

USUALLY NOT VINCENT'S ANGINA

REPLY

Some forms of pyorrhea, such as trench mouth (Vincent's anginal), are contagious. The usual types are not passed from one to another. The main cause is accumulation of a crust-like deposit of salt (tartar or calculus) that works its way between the gum and tooth root. In time, pus-filled pockets form and the tooth loosens and falls out.

Germans Find Virtue In Adhering To Order

By JOHN DORNBERG
Worldwide Press Service

BONN—"The Germans could never stage a revolution," Joseph Stalin once said, "because it would involve walking on the grass, and that is forbidden in Germany."

Germans still tend to value discipline, order and obedience as the highest virtues, and to have an ingrained respect for a uniform.

To test this, a Munich reporter recently donned a make-believe uniform—in which he appeared as a cross between a field marshal and a hotel doorman—and started throwing his weight around.

He took a position outside a public phone booth and methodically questioned callers about whom they had telephoned and what had been said. In addition, the reporter demanded to search their briefcases and purses.

Except for a few young people, those questioned did not refuse to answer the reporter, nor did they object to his search. Some even stammered out additional information — such as the senior Bavarian civil servant who promptly produced his identity card and apologized: "I just took off for a minute to call a repairman about my stove."

Yet a young American soldier, newly arrived in Germany, commented after surveying the multitude of signs about: "If the Germans really are so disciplined, why do they need so many written orders telling them what may and may not be done?"

According to a Bonn psychologist, Dr. Wolfgang Mueller: "The difference between us and the Anglo-Saxons, for example, is that the Germans are disciplined; the others are self-disciplined."

Closely related to the German respect for authority is a basic concern with legality. Germans have a profound respect for laws and for the people who implement them. This means that the ill-tempered streetcar conductor or the pompous clerk behind the post office window can rave and rant with impunity at their customers because the latter regard them not as "public servants" but as "government officials."

Kurt Tucholsky, the German humorist who was exiled by Hitler, once remarked: "The German's fate is to stand in front of the window. His goal is to sit behind it."

Thus Germany tends to be a country of do-it-yourself policemen, in which any citizen can file charges against another for contravention of laws without identifying himself.

This can lead to such frustrating situations as the one recently recorded in Cologne. A Cologne University student spent his time between classes checking on the parked cars within a six-block radius of the college. Each vehicle parked at an expired meter was dutifully recorded by him in a notebook—license number, description, and time of the violation.

Each day after school he would take his list to the nearest precinct station and report the cars to the sergeant on duty. By the time Cologne newspapers learned of what was going on more than 1,000 of the car owners had received tickets.

Did the student get a reward from the police? Not a pfennig; just a nod of thanks for doing his duty to the state.

This example may have been than an nover-zealous concern for obeying the law. In general, Germany's younger generation is less awed by authority than their elders who tend to attach to die da oben (those up on top) a dignity and authority ascribed by neither the constitution nor the courts.

A natural offshoot of the German respect for law is an obsession with litigation. As one German editorial writer says: "By nature an aggressive people, but at the same time well disciplined, Germans find a perfectly healthy outlet in litigation."

As a result lawyers are weighed down with trifling disputes which in most countries would be settled by friendly discussion.

When a German is upset because a neighbor plays his radio too loud at night, he doesn't simply complain to the neighbor. Rather he'll say: "I hope you know it is illegal to play the radio loud after 10 p.m."

That these national characteristics can have national ramifications is admitted by even the most disciplined Germans. Said a senior officer of the new German Army: "If we hadn't been so busy keeping records; if we had concentrated on moving divisions instead of archives in triplicate, we might not have lost the last war."

Coroner Says Boy Hanged Self

FORT BRAGG (AP)—Apparent suicide was the coroner's verdict yesterday in the hanging death of 14-year-old David G. Kohn inside the Fort Bragg High School gym.

Deputy Coroner Sam Costa said a rope had been tied to a scaffold. A ladder stood at the foot of a loop. A workman discovered the body.

The eighth grader Wednesday night told his father, George Kohn of Fort Bragg, that he was going to a ball game.

Purchase Of Liquor Brings $110 Fine

Frank H. Treantafeles, 31, of 30 Paloma Drive, Corte Madera, was fined $110 and placed on a year's probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

The charge was reduced from felony receiving of stolen vodka from two Sausalito teen-agers on March 12. Treantafeles, a coffee shop operator, was arrested by Sausalito police after allegedly buying a case of the liquor for $30.

ABC Sports Show Is Still The Best

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The big Saturday treat in the New York neighborhood where I was brought up was to be packed off, with lunch in a brown paper bag, to a local movie house fondly nicknamed "The Itch" because of its general condition.

The matrons there all looked like Wallace Beery, and I don't know how many times they slugged us kids for howling with gleeful disbelief at those crazy short films about exotic, remote-type sports (to us) that filled in during the double-or triple-feature breaks. I mean, here we were sitting in "The Itch," and there they were showing us some films about a guy sailing his yacht off Ceylon. Or maybe it was about tree-climbing in Tasmania or polo in Algiers. It all seemed like that, anyway. I never saw a film about baseball or football.

Well, times have changed — maids own boats, brown paper bags simply aren't what they used to be, and ABC - TV's "Wide World of Sports" has made events like the national skydiving championships almost as routine an occurrence for the televiewer as the world Series. And what I am getting around to is that "Wide World of Sports" marks its fourth anniversary Saturday — showing the Tournament of Champions golf competition at Las Vegas and stock car racing at Daytona, Fla.—and I just wanted to say happy birthday, "Wide World of Sports."

I wanted to say that because "Wide World of sports," with rare exceptions, is really an accomplishment each week. Although ABC-TV is the smallest network, "Wide World of Sports" is still the best sports show on national television and has caused its competing broadcasters to come up with imitations, none of which has survived as steadily or as long.

CBS-TV tonight will present a special program, "An Hour With Ed Murrow," dealing with the career of the noted reporter who died Tuesday. The program which begins at 8:30 p.m. EDT, is mainly a first person chronicle of Murrow's 25 years as a CBS radio and television correspondent in the form of excerpts from his broadcasts. Two of his colleagues, Eric Sevareid and Charles Collingwood, will introduce the program and provide the continuity.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Pope Paul will deliver a message from Rome Monday during NBC's two-hour United States-Europe telecast of the "Today" program via the new Early Bird Satellite.

'Cheyenne Autumn' Is At Rafael

By LES DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

"Cheyenne Autumn," screen version of the book by Mari Sandoz, is a long, sometimes memorable report of a tragic incident in American history. It is now playing.

In 1878, the last of the Cheyenne Indians, desperate because of wretched living conditions on their Oklahoma reservation, set out on a terrible 1,500-mile trek to their homeland in Montana. They are embittered by a government that had neglected their affairs and betrayed them.

In their flight they are pursued, half-heartedly, by a party of U.S. Cavalry whose sympathy brings them to the attention of a fair-minded secretary of the interior.

LARK THEATER

The "story of a female Tom Jones" starts when Fanny, just an innocent young thing, arrives in London in 1748. She takes a job as companion to Mrs. Brown.

What Fanny is too naive to realize is that Mrs. Brown's 12 "nieces" are actually playmates for the town's elite gentlemen.

Finally, a rich client decides the only way to conquer the ingenuous maiden is to marry her, which he does. But she gets out of this too, when an ensign she's in love with saves her before all is lost.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Many years after the meat cleaver murder of her lover, Miss Davis has settled into life as a bitter, friendless recluse.

When some highway officials want to run a freeway through Miss Davis' old mansion, she's against it. Townspeople think it's because she's afraid the diggers will turn up old bones.

Bette Davis also stars in the co-feature—the film version of Harold Robbins' "Where Love Has Gone."

TAMALPAIS THEATER

The controversial comedy, "John Goldfab, Please Come Home," is now on screen.

Peter Ustinov plays an oil-rich Arabian king who wants to put together a football team to beat Notre Dame. When ex-football player and coach John Goldfab winds up in Ustinov kingdom, he agrees (after some none-too-subtle persuading) to create the Arab football team.

PLAYHOUSE TIBURON

"The Pumpkin Eater," now showing, won a best-actress award at Cannes for Anne Bancroft. And she had it coming. Gregory Peck.

Twenty years after the Spanish civil war, antogonism still smolders between Peck, a loyalist hero exiled in Southern France, and Quinn, the Civil Guard Captain who wants to smash the legend of the exiled fighter.

Peck and trusted compatriots raid Spanish border towns to avenge his defeat. Quinn baits a trap for him with his ailing mother—knowing that will bring him into Spain again.

She plays a much-married mother of 14 assorted offspring who suddenly finds herself wealthy and living in leisure. For the first time she is able to take a look at herself. The experience proves an ordeal.

NOVATO THEATER

The screen version of the best selling "Sex and the Single Girl," starting Sunday, brings us a brightly furbished story starring Natalie Wood, Tony Curtis and Henry Fonda.

The bachelor editor of a leading scandal magazine prints an eye-popping article on psychologist Natalie Wood, playing the authoress of "Sex and the Single Girl."

To get to see her for a follow-up story, Curtis poses as his friend, Fonda, who has a case history of marital problems. The latter's jealous spouse is played by Lauren Bacall.

MOTOR MOVIES

101 DRIVE-IN

James Bond's latest thriller, "Goldfinger," is held over.

In this one, 007 is working against a clever plot to blow up the gold in Fort Knox. Auric Goldfinger, a man with a tremendous lust for gold, is behind the whole setup.

FAIRFAX THEATER

When an English writer (Alan Bates) comes to Crete, Zorba agrees to work a mine on his inheritance property.

Two Marin Singers In Richmond Opera

Soprano Marian Marsh of San Rafael and baritone George Baker of Fairfax will appear in Johann Strauss's opera, "Die Fledermaus," Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Richmond Auditorium.

Part of the Richmond Festival of the Arts, the opera is being produced by the San Francisco Opera Guild Talent Bank, and will be directed by Dr. Peggy Donovan who directs the College of Marin Opera Workshop.

SUMMER SWIMMING—As an indication of things to come, Mrs. Ellis M. Stephens, chairman of the Ross Summer School Program, coaches her daughter Becky on her first dive. Looking on are Tori Gabrielsen, Alex Dibble and Molly Noble. The summer program will include swimming lessons and a course in life-saving. Registration will be Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to noon at Ross School.

Ross School Registration Tomorrow

The Ross Summer School Program, started seven years ago by the Ross PTA, will continue this year with class registration being held tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to noon at Ross School.

Sanctioned by the Ross School Board and the Ross Town Council, the summer sessions stress creative and recreational activities, according to the Ross PTA.

Troopers Quell Trouble At Women's Prison

ST. GABRIEL, La. (AP) — State troopers stood overnight guard at the Louisiana State Prison for Women after quelling a shrieking, mud-throwing riot last night with tear gas and streams of water from firehoses.

State Police Supt. Tom Burbank, who hustled in with about 30 men during the three-hour uproar, said there were no serious troubles.

Warden Clyde Griffin said the trouble started after one of the 130 inmates was placed in solitary for hitting a matron in an argument over food.

Seventeen women, four of them Negroes, crawled up to the roof of a two-story dormitory and refused to come down unless the inmate placed in "the hole" was released. They were armed with garden tools. About 50 others milled around in the prison yard, screaming insults and throwing mud at the guards.

Mail Is Found Under Church

CLEVELAND, Miss. (AP) — Pesticide company workers crawled underneath St. Paul's Baptist Church yesterday to check for termites.

Instead of termites, they found a sack containing 45 pieces of U.S. mail, including a check for $3,171.

Postal authorities said the letters apparently were stolen last May.

'Incomparable Journey' And Now To Weeding

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"I flew in a Cessna ski plane over 12,000-foot peaks in New Zealand.

"I chiseled and hammered oysters off the rocks in Australia. I had all the oysters I wanted for the first time in my life, raw.

Now home in Mill Valley, Roberta Winans, 73, calls her seven-month world-circling trip "the incomparable journey, with apologies to Disney and his incredible journey."

She said, "I would love to go back to Africa in two years and see how it has changed. It is changing so fast." Meanwhile she said she must pull some weeds from the many rock walls she built at her home at 111 Cornelia Avenue.

Miss Winans said she lost 15 pounds and 15 years off her age in her first two months in Africa.

"This was because I had to keep my wits about me. I was in eight French-speaking countries without knowing any French. It is easy in France where people speak English, but not in French-speaking Africa."

She "bumped into" a lot of Peace Corps Americans, she said, and believes they are having much "more fun" in Africa than those she met on a previous Christmas trip to Equador. "They like Malawi," she added.

"Two-thirds of all the high school teachers in the country of Malawi are African Peace Corps people." This is temporary, she added.

"In Togoland, I learned, the Peace Corps people have built their own round huts like the natives. In Uganda, they may kick out the Peace Corps. In the country of Mali, where Timbuctu is, they won't allow any Peace Corps or U. S. Information Service. Zanzibar seems to be very much more communist and the rest of Tanzania is apparently going Communist." (Tanzania, she said is combined of Zanzibar and Tanganyika.)

From Nairobi, Kenya, Miss Winans flew to Mauritius, an island under the British in the Indian Ocean, then to Australia.

She took a five-day cruise along the Great Barrier Reef in a glass-bottom boat and ate fresh oysters off the rocks. She landed on Mount Cook, a large glacier, in a ski plane, then visited fiord country and caves lighted by about a million glow worms.

She fished in the geyser and earthquake section where it is possible to catch a fish in a cold water stream and flip it into a hot geyser for boiling.

"Now about those weeds in my garden. . . ." she said.

Honor Society Names Three

The honor society also accepted 71 students for temporary membership and elected Kent Thierfeldt of San Rafael as president; Everett Rigsbee of Kentfield, vice president; Suzanne Tobin of Hamilton Air Force Base, secretary; Bradley C. The Iroquois Indians consisted of five central New York State tribes which banded to form the Five Nations.
